SATURDAY, THEY TEA OFF ON OTTAWA

Things have come to a pretty pass when Peerless Parker passes crumpets and tea, while Edmonton teammates Normie Kwong and Rollie Miles are wreathed in grins instead of hate-Ottawa type frowns. It's all because of the Old English atmosphere of the Empress Hotel, where WIFU champs are resting between twice-daily workouts leading up to Grey Cup game in Vancouver Saturday.

Customs Act Change To Protect Industry

HUTCHISON SERIES STARTS THURSDAY

Times editor Bruce Hutchison returned at the weekend from a six-week visit to the United Kingdom, with a short trip to the European continent. In Thursday's Times Mr. Hutchison starts a series of articles dealing with some of the basic trade and economic problems there, as they may affect Canada.

MUM ON CHANGES

Bennett May Name Ministers Monday

B.C. cabinet changes will probably be made next Monday, Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today.

He told a press conference: "I hope to have them next Monday."

Mr. Bennett did not disclose whether the changes would introduce new members, or would merely be a shuffle of existing ones.

Two jobs must be filled: labor and agriculture.

Mr. Bennett's visitor before seeing the press today was Labor Minister Lyle Wicks, defeated at the Sept. 12 election along with Agriculture Minister Newton P. Steacy.

Mr. Wicks said afterwards, "I haven't anything to say regarding my future plans at this time."

Mr. Steacy is on a train bound for Vancouver from Eastern Canada. He is not expected to return here before Friday.

Premier Bennett said their replacements would be sworn in by Lieutenant Governor George Pearkes at Government House.

He said he expected to make the changes Monday as he leaves for Quebec City Wednesday for a provincial premiers' conference.

"We want to make sure the cabinet is reorganized—rather positions filled—prior to the trip."

Home Construction Primed By Gov't Housing Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—A government program to revamp the National Housing Act with a view to priming the home construction industry and otherwise providing jobs was unveiled in the Commons Tuesday by Works Minister Walker.

"The scope of this thing is tremendous," said Mr. Walker toward the end of a 20-page speech in which he outlined the proposals, which apparently represent the government's spearhead attack on the problem of unemployment.

Maximum loans to home builders under NHA would be increased, and down payments slashed; municipalities would be further assisted in carrying out slum clearance projects, and in constructing sewerage works; loans would be provided for construction of student residences at Canadian universities.

Mr. Walker announced the proposals in introducing a resolution paving the way for the bill which will give them effect.

Earlier, the Commons gave first reading to another government measure aimed at reducing unemployment. It would authorize federal guarantees on bank loans to small businessmen seeking to expand or renovate their premises.

Such loans would be available to businesses with a maximum gross revenue of $250,000 a year. The proposed maximum duration is 10 years, and the loan limit $25,000.

Mr. Walker's announcement of government plans to stimulate house building was characterized by J. R. Garland (L. Nipissing) as coming too late.

PLANS CONGRATULATED

Mr. Garland, Liberal housing critic, said the government should act at once to lower the present 6 1/2 per cent interest rate on mortgages guaranteed by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Erhart Regier (CCF, Burnaby-Coquitlam) congratulated the government on its plans in the housing field—where "it

Germany Resists U.S. Payment Plea

Won't Help Army Upkeep

BONN (Reuters)—An American financial mission left here by air today after West Germany turned down an urgent request to start making immediate cash payments for the upkeep of United States troops stationed on German soil.

West German Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard told reporters at the airport that Germany "had to say no" to the request during two days of talks here.

Erhard, who led the German delegation at the talks, said his side was "somewhat surprised" that the Americans "put such great emphasis on the question of stationing costs."

Reporters at the airport asked Erhard whether the payments question was expected to come up at any further American-German negotiations. He replied emphatically "no."

Political observers said failure to reach agreement on so important a question to the United States was unprecedented in American-West German relations.

Informed sources said the American negotiators went into the talks to get a substantial immediate payment to help the serious American financial situation, reflected in a decline in U.S. gold reserves to the lowest level in 25 years.

$600,000,000 AT STAKE

But the negotiators failed to convince West Germany to cover the dollar outflow arising from the stationing of some 500,000 servicemen and their dependents here—an annual sum of more than $600,000,000.

The Germans refused to be budged from their position that support of this kind must be arranged on a multilateral basis through NATO—which would take some months, the sources said.

The Germans also thought direct payment to the U.S. was likely to bring similar demands from other Atlantic alliance countries such as Britain, which maintains large forces in Germany.

In Frankfurt today, the federal bank announced West Germany's foreign currency reserves have fallen for the first time since February. In the week to Nov. 15 the reserves fell by about $21,000,000 to $7,336,000,000 although gold reserves remained unchanged.

The conference communique said the Americans "warmly welcomed" West Germany's plan to make about $700,000,000 to $924,000,000 available in aid to underdeveloped countries next year.

Battles Chinese Reds On Coexistence Policy

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia, in a tough rejoinder to its critics within the Communist camp, said today peaceful coexistence still is a controlling principle in its policies.

The declaration in Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, indicated that hard bargaining on Communist world tactics still is going on in the Red "summit" meeting here that has been in progress for two weeks although some kind of paper compromise may be reached eventually.

Only two days ago the official People's Daily of Peking, in an evident attack on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's theories of peaceful coexistence and the possibility that a third world war may not be inevitable, said it was an illusion to think communism can get along with imperialism.

Peking, in the role of stand-pat revolutionism, called for all-out Communist backing for revolutionary movements in underdeveloped countries. It urged, however, in a seeming mood of compromise, that Communists "turn the possibility of averting world war into a reality."

ABAN STILL PRINCIPLE

The Pravda article also said that banishing of nuclear weapons still was a controlling principle in Soviet policy.

In a separate interview with Khrushchev on disarmament, it quoted him as saying the Soviet Union would accept any type of controls if an agreement is reached for general and complete disarmament.

Khrushchev denied that Russia is seeking to dodge control under any future disarmament agreement.

The premier repeated his recent statement to the United Nations General Assembly in New York that "if a decision is taken on total and universal disarmament, on the destruction of weapons, we shall accept any control."

"In such a case we shall be ready to let even the most rabid haters of communism and socialism draft the control regulations," he declared.

U.S. Orbits Weather 'Eye'

CAPE CANAVERAL (UP)—The United States shot a camera-bearing Tiros II weather satellite into a near "perfect orbit today and it began sending back pictures of the earth's cloud cover as a forerunner of weather forecasting from space stations.

'FIRST MAN IN ORBIT NEXT YEAR'

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Werner von Braun predicted today that the United States will have a manned space flight in orbit next year.

However, he said his predicted schedule depends on a series of successful manned ballistic flights powered by the Redstone rocket.

"I have absolutely no reason to believe we will not have an orbital flight in 1961," he told a press conference. "I think we will."

He said the first ballistic flights, involving the firing of missiles in a 200-mile trajectory at a maximum altitude of 160 miles, are scheduled to begin in the first quarter next year.

The orbital flights contemplated later would involve placing a manned vehicle in orbit around the earth.

The first Tiros satellite, sent up last April, found a tornado and a hurricane, and today's more sophisticated vehicle was expected to do even better although both are experimental devices.

After its first pass Tiros II sent eight blank pictures because it was tipped at an angle at the time. But then it sent a series of pictures to Fort Monmouth, N.J., where they went through processing before being sent to Washington.

SMALL CAMERA

The first pictures were taken by the smaller of the 280-pound satellite's two television cameras. Still to be tested was its larger, wide-angle lens camera and infra-red sensors which are to be used when the portion of the earth being photographed is dark.

A Thor-Delta rocket carried the 280-pound Tiros II to America's 14th space success of the year. A Transit III—a navigation-aid satellite—was poised on a nearby pad for an attempt at number 15 next week.

Soviet Raps Assembly For Backing Kasavubu

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union said today the United Nations General Assembly had done serious harm to the Congo situation by voting to seat a delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin, bitter over Tuesday night's assembly

action, told a press conference the 99-nation assembly had acted under U.S. pressure to rubber-stamp a decision opposed by many African nations.

The Soviet diplomat said the assembly's action "means nothing but encouragement of misdeeds and illegal actions" by the army regime of strong man Col. Joseph Mobutu.

Today's Traffic Trouble Tip

Stay in Own Circle Lane

By AB KENT

Sooner or later, even the least vocal motorist begins singing the Fountain Circle Blues.

This is an off-beat number, the rhythm out of time, often punctuated by the snarl of exhaust, a tire squeal and blatherings from behind the steering wheel.

It's a sad tune, but like the old-time blues represent misery. Fountain Circle is the monkey on the Victoria motorist's back.

The 10-year-old traffic-sorting device at the multiple intersection of Government, Hillside, Gorge and Douglas was conceived in the belief that drivers can be courteous and sensible.

While it has not quite worked out that way and despite the fact that several drivers have pulverized cars trying to ignore it, the circle remains and drivers must cope with it using patience and giving way to traffic approaching from their left.

"Old Subscriber" asks what lane he should use within the circle when driving south in the curbside lane on Douglas.

There is no firm rule here, but discretion comes first of all. The ideal practice is to stay in the outer lane of the circle itself, rejoining the outside lane beyond the circle without crossing a broken line getting there.

Each movement must be properly signalled.

Once in the outside lane there should be no need to depart from it or the outer circle lane in negotiating any part of Fountain Circle.

(Incidentally, in all articles dealing with lane-driving, the term "inside lane" will be used in reference to the lane nearest the centre line. "Outside lane" will designate the lane nearest the curb.)

Entering the circle from the centre lane is a little different because it is necessary to cross the outer circle lane to get to the inner one, which might be preferable for traffic southbound on Douglas intending to turn onto Hillside, for example.

After you, my dear Alphonse.

If you have a traffic question, send it in care of Times "Traffic Troubles."

NATO ARMS CONTROL AIM OF LEGISLATORS

PARIS (Reuters)—A group of NATO legislators today was reported calling for NATO political control over nuclear weapons.

Sources said the NATO parliamentary conference's political committee in closed session approved a draft resolution urging the NATO council to develop ways to establish NATO's political authority over the use and delivery strength of nuclear weapons.

The political committee and a conference military committee met today to discuss Gen. Lauris Norstad's plan for a NATO atomic pool.

LLANYMYNECK, Wales—Innkeeper Bill Dawson opens half his pub on Sundays—the half that is in England.

In pop the "regulars" from Wales. They order a pint in England and walk to the other side of the pub—back to Wales—to drink it.

Under Britain's drinking laws, pubs must remain closed on Sundays in Wales, although they may remain open in England. The back half of Dawson's pub is in England.

Dawson, whose inn has an England-Wales signpost in the middle of the foyer, said "it's about time the laws were changed to allow Sunday opening in Wales."

And Stan Worthington, keeper of a nearby inn, agreed. He can't open on Sunday—his pub is 25 yards from England.

SYDNEY, Australia—A Sydney doctor of chemistry said Tuesday removing hangovers would rob drinkers of some of their fun. "Most drinkers," he said, "like to feel a little punishment after a night of heavy drinking."

SUDBURY, Ont.—A bottle given prominent display on the magistrate's bench was too much of a temptation for a spectator in police court on Tuesday.

The dishevelled figure pointed to the whisky, an exhibit in a bootlegging case, and interrupted proceedings.

"Can I say one word your honor?" he asked in a clear voice. "How about me? I'm thirsty. . . . I would like a little shot."

Before the magistrate had time to reply, a policeman grabbed the man and hustled him out of court.

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—Mrs. Gloria McGown opened her washing machine, removed some sheets—and the cleanest pigeon in town. The bird apparently perched inside the washer, in the McGown's open garage, before Mrs. McGown put in the laundry. It went through 30 agitating minutes but humane officer Herbert Dean said it rallied splendidly.

LONDON—A Scotsman, ordering a wee nip of whisky in an English pub these days finds — alas — that is exactly what he gets, the House of Lords was told Tuesday night.

The complaint was made by a Scottish peer, the Earl of Dundee, who was speaking on a bill before the House that would legally fix the size of a shot of whisky.

Dundee, who is the hereditary royal standard bearer for Scotland, said that in London before the Second World War a small Scotch was "just visible" in the glass. A double whisky, on the other hand "might perhaps have afforded some momentary satisfaction to an Englishman in a hurry."

But since the war, he told the laughing Lords the double Scotch has become the size of the prewar small Scotch and a single is now "nothing more than a dirty glass."

"I don't know how much the restaurants pay a scullery maid for cleaning the glass," he said, "but they charge 4s 6d for looking at it."

Baby Strangled

EASTBOURNE, Eng. (AP)

A three-week-old baby girl kidnapped from outside a local department store was found dead Tuesday night in a park less than half a mile away.

The baby, Linda Jeffs, is believed to have been strangled.

Her body was lying in the baby carriage where her mother had left her to do some shopping.

Second Chance Given In Child Assault Case

George Wilson, 3020 Donald, was given a second chance by Magistrate William Ostler when he appeared for sentence in Saanich police court Tuesday after being convicted of injuring his three-year-old stepdaughter Oct. 8.

The child suffered a swollen eye and cut lips. Wilson, a naval seaman, was charged with assault occasioning actual bodily harm.

"Any man who will strike a helpless child is nothing but a contemptible coward and deserves to be roundly thrashed himself," the magistrate said.

"Unfortunately my powers do not permit me to impose this. All my instincts tell me to send you to prison but that would mean the end of your naval career and your marriage to this child's mother."

"If this experience will cause you to reassess your marriage and care of this child, then some good will have come from the evil you have done."

Magistrate Ostler, "with a great deal of misgivings" suspended sentence on a $500 bond to be of good behaviour for two years.

FINE ARTS BUILDING GRANT GIVEN TO UBC

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canada Council today announced that grants totalling $600,065 have been awarded three Western Canadian universities.

The University of British Columbia receives $567,500 to assist in construction of a fine arts building, the University of Saskatchewan $16,065 for an art studio at Emma Lake and the University of Alberta $16,500 for structural changes in its arts building.

The disbursements bring to about $24,000,000 the total thus far approved from a $50,000,000 university capital grants fund.

LEAVING PUBLIC LIFE

Solon Low Quits Job as Teacher

RAYMOND, Alta. (CP)—Solon Low, a member of the Social Credit party since its Alberta sweep in 1935 and national party leader for the last 16 years, is stepping out of public life.

Mr. Low, 60, announced Tuesday night he has resigned his high school teaching job in this community 20 miles south of Lethbridge. The resignation is effective Jan. 1, 1961.

Deteriorating health and pressure of a rigid school schedule was given as the reason.

Mr. Low earlier had announced plans to step out of politics but agreed to continue as party leader until the Social Credit national leadership convention, scheduled for next summer in Ottawa.

WORKED WITHOUT PAY In the early 1930s, when depression gripped the Prairies, Mr. Low was one of 18 teachers at the Warner high school who found themselves working without salaries.

The desperate town worked out a plan whereby script was used in lieu of currency. This seemed to him concrete evidence that the theory of Social Credit was workable.

The Raymond experiment was watched closely by William Aberhart, head of the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute, who led Social Credit to power in the 1935 Alberta election.

Mr. Low was elected to represent Warner in that election and two years later was named provincial treasurer by Premier Aberhart.

In 1943 Mr. Low was named minister of education of Alberta. In 1944 he was elected president and national leader of the Social Credit party, and has been renamed to the post each year since.

MACMILLAN GRANTED AUDIENCE

Pope John Salutes Queen

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John today expressed "cordial and fervent" wishes for the Queen and saluted "the noble British people."

The 78-year-old supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church expressed his thoughts in receiving Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in official visit.

Macmillan was accompanied to the 25-minute private audience in the pontiff's library by Lord Home, Britain's foreign secretary. Then other members of the prime minister's party were permitted to enter the audience room, and the pontiff addressed the group.

He spoke in French. The pontiff hailed the efforts of the prime minister and of the British people for a true and lasting peace and said that the Roman Catholic Church also was bending its efforts to this objective.

Macmillan visited the pontiff after concluding two days of meetings with Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani and other Italian leaders.

HOSTILE REACTION FEARED BY CANADA

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada abstained on the vote to seat President Joseph Kasavubu's delegation to the United Nations Tuesday because the decision was regarded as premature by members of the Congo advisory committee in the UN, an External Affairs Department source said today.

Canada is a member of the committee, established to advise UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld on the UN operation in the Congo.

When the question of seating the Kasavubu delegation came before the General Assembly, the advisory committee had just decided to send a conciliation commission to the Congo to try to resolve the three-way split among the Kasavubu faction, those supporting deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba, and Congolese military chief, Col. Joseph Mobutu.

Canada's abstention was in line with the vote of all other members of the advisory committee, who either abstained or voted against recognizing the Kasavubu delegation, believing the conciliation commission should have a chance to go to work.

The external affairs source said Canada's decision to abstain was also based on the fact that this country has troops in the Congo and to vote in favor of the Kasavubu delegation might be interpreted there as taking sides on a fundamental issue in Congolese internal politics and might invite the hostility of other factions.

It was noted that the two other countries with white troops in the Congo—Sweden and Ireland—took the same attitude.

However, the source said, Canada regards the Kasavubu group as representing the most stable leadership in the Congo and President Kasavubu is generally recognized as the acknowledged head of state of his country.

Wildcat Rail Strike Warning by CCFer

(From Times News Service)

OTTAWA—A warning of a wildcat strike starting Thursday and disrupting all CNR service between Toronto and Winnipeg was delivered Tuesday to Transport Minister Balcer.

The warning came both in the Commons from Douglas Fisher (CCF, Port Arthur) and in a subsequent meeting between Mr. Balcer and union leaders representing some of the 1,000 engineers, firemen, brakemen and conductors in Northern Ontario.

Mr. Fisher told the House that the CNR has given only nine days' notice to its train crews before starting on Thursday a new East-West fast freight on which the crews will be required to make runs twice as long as at present.

Hospital Sweeps Bill Introduced

A bill to make it legal for Canadians to gamble on sweepstakes "under strictly supervised conditions" was introduced in the Commons Tuesday.

Sponsored by Ferguson Browne (PC—Vancouver-Kingsway), it calls for establishment of a hospital sweepstakes board.

OTTAWA—H. W. Herridge, CCF Commons member for Kootenay West, renewed his criticism Monday night of a daily newspaper which, he said, has denied a competitor use of advertising facilities on a radio station it owns.

Mr. Herridge, who didn't name the paper in his Commons speech, Tuesday, identified it as The Nelson News, which he said is owner of radio station CKLN. The News and the radio station are among properties of the News Publishing Company.

Senate Joins Unemployment Study

Parliament's attack on unemployment became two-pronged Tuesday as the Senate gave the green light for a comprehensive manpower study.

Government leader T. M. Asseltine moved as the Upper Chamber's first business that a special committee named last session but which lapsed with prorogation should be renewed.

Industrialist E. P. Taylor may be called. Liberals said he has employment ideas the government should consider.

During the recess, economics professor John Deutsch of Queen's University prepared a wide range of background studies.

Transport Minister Balcer said in the Commons today the federal government's subsidy for Pacific Western Airlines' prairie regional service will run to $25,000 a month.

He announced the subsidy in the Commons Monday but said Tuesday he did not make it clear that it was on a per-month basis.

The subsidy will be subject to review at the end of the fiscal year next March 31.

'Out With UN' Cry Congo Funeral Mourners

LEOPOLDVILLE (Reuters)—Four Congolese soldiers killed in a clash outside the Ghanaian Embassy Monday were driven in funeral procession through the African quarter of Leopoldville today amid cries of "Out with the UN" from some of the thousands of spectators along the route.

The soldiers—Col. Joseph Kokolo, commander of the Leopoldville garrison, two non-commissioned officers and a private—were killed in a clash with Tunisian United Nations troops when they tried to enforce an order ex-

WIN FOR WEST African Bloc Split On Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The Western allies scored a hard-earned victory Tuesday night when the General Assembly voted by a wide margin to give the empty United Nations Congo seat to President Joseph Kasavubu.

The vote of 53 to 24 with 19 abstentions marked a bitter defeat for the Soviet bloc and many Asian-African nations who fought Kasavubu's bid for a seat every step of the way.

Russia has formally backed Patrice Lumumba, deposed Congo premier, who also sent a delegation to the UN.

Kasavubu issued a statement expressing satisfaction over the Assembly's decision to seat him. He expressed hope that his delegation could meet soon with secretary-general Dag Hammarskjöld and the UN Congo advisory committee to try to bring the warring factions together in his chaotic state.

SPLIT HIGHLIGHTED

The vote highlighted the wide-open split in the African bloc on the Congo.

Nine African states voted to seat the Congo president. They were Cameroon, Chad, Congo Republic (Brazzaville), Dahomey, Gabon, Ivory Coast, Malagasy, Niger and Senegal.

Six Africans voted against. They were United Arab Republic, Ghana, Guinea, Mali, Morocco and Togo. Seven others—Central African Republic, Somalia, Tunisia, Sudan, Ethiopia, Liberia and Libya—abstained. Nigeria and Upper Volta did not vote.

The decision to seat Kasavubu received added impact when the 15-nation Asian-African conciliation mission decided just before the ballot to delay its departure for the violence-torn Congo scheduled for Tuesday night.

Mali, one of the African states opposing Kasavubu, served notice after the vote that it was dropping out of the conciliation mission. Guinea served notice earlier that it would do the same.

pellig Ghanaian charge d'affaires Nathaniel Weilbeck.

The heads of diplomatic missions were invited to the Protestant funeral service but the Congolese advised the UN that it would be unwise to send a representative because of possible hostile demonstrations.

The procession included Congolese army strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu and the commission of students he has set up to govern the country.

Meanwhile, Congolese soldiers released the last of more than 40 UN staffers they arrested Tuesday in reprisal for the fighting around the Ghanaian Embassy.

Tension remained high in the city but UN spokesmen said no new incidents had been reported today.

The UN said today that 11 Tunisian troops were wounded in Monday's clash. The casualties were higher on the Congolese side.

UN troops continued their strong armed guard at the offices of the world organization, and a helicopter flew back and forth over the city on the lookout for trouble.

The Congolese troops apparently were acting without orders in arresting and man-handling the UN staffers.

The officers' mess of the Canadian signals unit was in the line of fire Monday and was destroyed. No Canadians were hurt.

Weilbeck left Leopoldville Tuesday for Ghana. He said his government had asked him to leave.

The Japanese Voice

THE RESULTS OF LAST Sunday's general election in Japan carry far more than national significance. They are of the utmost importance to the West and to the world.

In returning Premier Hyato Ikeda and his Conservative supporters to office the people of Japan showed that they still stand with the United States and against Communism; that the thousands of Leftists who in recent months have surged through city streets in violent demonstrations did not represent the common men and women of Japan; that the rioting which caused cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit last summer was not the action of Japan but of a few extremists.

The importance of Premier Ikeda's victory may be measured in conjecture as to the effects if the election had gone to his Communist opponents. The Far Eastern defences of the democracies would have suffered a probably fatal blow; the Soviet Union would have won, without a drop of blood spilled, its greatest of victories since the defeat of Nazi Germany. The whole position of the East-West struggle would have been changed.

That is what hung on the Japanese vote, quite apart from national issues or endorsement of the security pact with the United States. The voting people of Japan showed where their sympathy lies.

Despite this clear-cut answer from the Right, the Communists made gains. In winning the highest returns in the past ten years they took three seats and attracted 2.6 per cent of the vote. Socialist elements took 161 seats. The Conservative Government forces won 296 seats, a gain of 13. But they failed to get the 312 seats they sought, which would have given them the two-thirds parliamentary majority needed to amend the constitution.

Out of a centuries-old feudal state the Japanese people have been plunged into the problem of handling the most complex and sensitive political system ever devised. But although marred by violence, they are demonstrating their ability to operate the democratic process.

The Japanese public has shown its preference at the polls—it will continue as an ally of the West. With that decision goes a responsibility on the West to treat Japan as a full ally. This is particularly so in the field of trade where our refusal to accept Japanese goods could drive the industrious Japanese into Communist markets, with all that this implies in the way of possible political influence.

Japan's Leftist minority is still small, although it has been growing slowly since the war. Much of its future increase or decrease may depend to a considerable extent on the policies of Japan's Western allies.

Something Has Turned Up

THAT CITADEL OF CONSERVATISM, The Gazette of Montreal, has come out with some strong criticism of Canada, insofar as Canada, beset with economic problems has, like Mr. Micawber, waited for something to turn up.

"Something has," says The Gazette. "It is unemployment." Now since Canada can only act as a unit in such matters through its national government, the criticism must obviously be directed to Mr. Diefenbaker and his policy-making colleagues. Coming from The Gazette, it is a criticism that carries weight.

The newspaper points out the fallacy of borrowing heavily from the United States to create prosperity here. In fact, says The Gazette, such borrowing causes unemployment in Canada.

The reasoning—and it has been widely urged by Mr. James Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada—is that a large influx of funds from the United States, such as we have been encouraging, raises the price of the Canadian dollar in terms of United States dollars. This makes it harder to sell Canadian products in the United States, since buyers there must pay the premium on Canadian currency. Thus Canada's export business is affected.

On the other hand, it makes it easier to buy from the United States, since Canadian buyers enjoy a premium on their currency. Canada's imports will thus increase, at the expense of Canadian-made products.

Hence, both in its effects on imports and on exports the premium currency situation—caused by large borrowings in the first place—is disadvantageous to Canadian production and hence to Canadian employment.

The cure, of course, does not lie, as Mr. Coyne points out, in "monetary gimmicks" or "tinkering with the money and credit machinery." The problem is more fundamental than that.

Basically the cure can only lie in living within our national income, as any family must do if it is to survive economically. And that is no argument against making the national income as large as possible. We cannot continue to sell our natural resources and manufacturing plants to American investors and use the money for consumer goods, just as a family cannot continue to sell its home and furniture to provide money for luxuries and entertainment.

That is a hard thought to sell to Canadians, used to living at a high standard. But the depth of our eventual decline, and the quickness of our recovery from it, will be largely determined by our willingness to face the facts—as 5 per cent of our working force, now unemployed, is facing them.

When the Lights Went Out

ONE OF THE IRRITATING, often dangerous, but essential features of the last war was the blackout inflicted on all cities under night air attack.

A few days ago a section of Victoria, including the hospitals, suffered an unexpected blackout when a car struck a power pole near the Bay Street substation.

If they are reported correctly, Civil Defence spokesmen have urged the B.C. Electric to take all steps feasible to prevent a recurrence of the power cut-off.

Victorians will support them in that plea. A number, visiting hospital patients on the night in question, were shocked to find the buildings generally in darkness with occasional candles lighting rooms containing patients.

How, the visitors wondered, could help be summoned for a seriously ill case which needed immediate attention? How could nurses see what they were doing? Where was the auxiliary electrical equipment the public thought was in all hospitals to carry on necessary service?

Civil Defence authorities show foresight in recommending measures to prevent, as far as possible, future blackouts. But their plea itself raises a question: How well is Civil Defence equipped to act in an emergency—not just an accident, which turns the light out in certain localities, but the kind of emergency of broad proportions Civil Defence is expected to handle?

Monkey Suit and All

MR. WILLIAM WALES TOOK his chum, Ernie, a real chimpanzee, to see a London play featuring a chimpanzee.

Mr. Wales bought two orchestra seat tickets and started in. The theatre manager halted him, told him Ernie, properly dressed for the occasion, could not attend and finally persuaded Mr. Wales and his guest to leave.

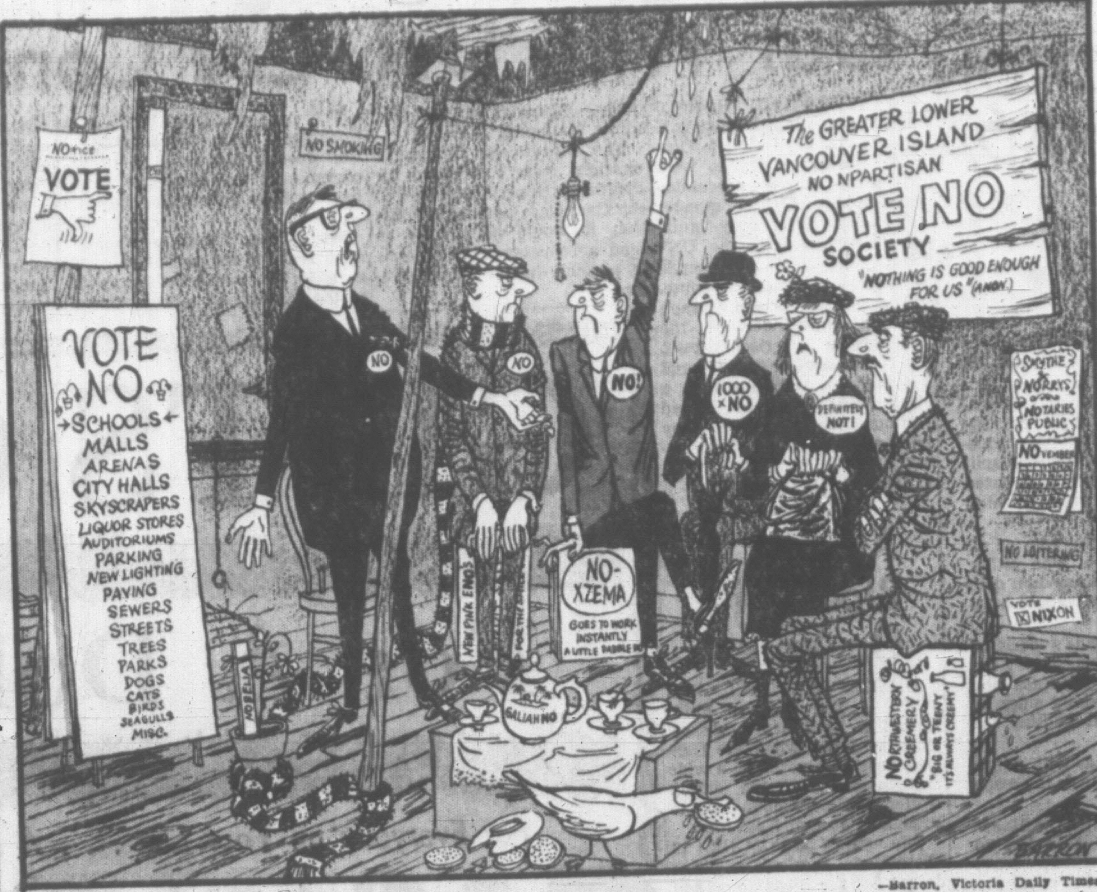

The chimpanzee in the play was, in fact, a man wearing a chimpanzee suit.

Under the circumstances, it seems that Ernie had a special right to attend. His species was being represented on the London stage. Conceivably the characterization may have done extreme violence to what a chimpanzee believes a chimpanzee should appear to be on the other side of the footlights. Ernie was entitled to form his own critical judgment—and protest, too, if his kind were maligned.

Instead, he was refused even a seat in the show.

This is democracy?

FALSE FRONTS INCLUDED

Do-It-Yourself in the Land of Fantasy

By B. A. TOBIN

IT isn't very surprising to learn that Russia intends to build a Disneyland-type park just outside of Moscow, and make it bigger and better than any other such park. That was almost bound to happen after Mr. Khrushchev was refused admission to California's Disneyland when he visited the United States last year. The reason for the refusal was that it wouldn't have been safe for Mr. Khrushchev with all those gnomes and giants and things around. Or perhaps it was vice versa. Anyway, he didn't get in. So the mountain will go to Mahomet, by order.

The super-super Disneyland will be built in a bend of the Moscow River near the capital. That much is clear. And it's not difficult to predict what will be in it.

Mr. Disney had to go to mythology and fairyland to find the population for his wonderful world. Where will the Russians go? Will they have to invoke imaginary characters to fill the eerie scenery? Or will their straight history provide enough of the grotesque to fill the park?

In the actual construction, the Russians already have a good head start. In fact they could claim, as they have for so many other things, that they invented the whole idea.

The Potemkin villages, for instance, showed imagination, initiative, artistry and a well-developed ability to kid people along for their own pleasure. What more has Disney got?

Potemkin, you'll remember, was a favorite of Catherine II and was in charge of building up Russian territories and keeping things looking prosperous. When the lady made her famous tour into southern Russia, the journey, according to the story, was made pleasant for her by erecting false-front villages along the route.

These stage props did the trick, apparently, and kept her from finding out that Mr. Potemkin didn't have much backing as a fixer-upper, even though he put up a good front.

From Potemkin to Disney would be only a step.

But what else could Russia choose for its fairyland spectacles? Its history is well filled with giants, ogres and other types who could provide a suitable atmosphere.

How about an acre given over to a tableau of Stalin starving out a few million peasants in order to make his collectivization plans stick? You could get some pretty good effects there. And of course shooting the Czar and his family in the cellar would be easy to arrange. They could probably find the original clothes and props and move the genuine cellar to the new location.

That's authenticity—Disney couldn't match.

Rasputin, of course, will be a natural, with the added advantage that they won't have to make up anything grotesque—it's all there ready.

In more modern times the giants, ogres and unbelievable creatures become even more numerous. Beria falling bullet-ridden in his cell as the MVD boys chant, "Hi ho, hi ho, and off to work we go..."; Stalin's Kremlin pal dancing a jig of joy when Joe fell dead, and almost dying of fright when Joe showed signs of regaining consciousness.

And then a moving tableau of old Stonebottom scribbling on the note a friend had sent out of prison to him, asking him to get the authorities to stop torturing him: "Torture him more."

Ah yes, if it's the grotesque, blood-curdling and eerie you want, the boys in Moscow will be able to lay it on thick.

California's Disneyland will eventually become a second-rate place where even Mr. Khrushchev could get in.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Poor Publicity?

Being a citizen of Victoria since 1907, I am very proud of my city and resent very strongly the titles of recent speeches and public meetings such as "What's the Matter With Victoria" and "Stop the Rot". Why are we paying our public servants for this type of publicity?

Unemployment at this time is a major issue and if it continues will drain our taxes. Therefore, if some one wants to build a nine storey building, why limit it to six storeys? There will be more employment and a larger tax revenue for the city in the larger building. Many changes have been suggested for urban improvement. Where's the money coming from for all these drastic changes if we drive out industry and enterprise?

I have traveled extensively this year on the continent and Great Britain, and I can assure one and all that there is no curtailment of enterprise there. Their roundabouts, buildings and modern lighting would put us to shame. If we are to be a little bit of Old England, let us get busy and forget about cluster lights and bobby hats or we will be left far, far behind.

There is nothing wrong with Victoria. Let us stop this Tommy rot and get on with the business of making our city grow.

WILLIAM CHISHOLM,
1278 Vista Heights.

Read the Sign Bylaw?

How many Victorians, I wonder, have been able to read the details of the fourth draft of the proposed Signs bylaw and thus had a chance to realize what it holds for the future of the city?

It is very liberal indeed in the size and variety of the signs it would allow—much too liberal in my view. But what should really concern everyone who cares at all about the dignity and famous visual charm of the city are the amendments to this fourth draft which have been put in at the suggestion of the sign industry and which are shortly to be considered by the city council.

There is for example the policy on billboards. The fourth draft would allow Class B billboards in areas north of the Roundabout and west of the Inner Harbor. And what is a Class B billboard? It is one having an area of up to 300 square feet!

This is bad enough when it comes to the defacement of the northern approach to the city centre. But what the amendments propose is also to be allowed in the main business area between Government and Blanshard streets. This is surely preposterous.

The fourth draft would also allow signs which project out and hang over the sidewalks. In their total effect on the appearance of a street these are probably as bad as billboards. If any one doubts this let him simply stand anywhere on downtown Government street and observe how magnificent the view would be if all projecting signs were removed. But the sign industry amendments would weaken the fourth draft still further by allowing signs in many areas to project to within a foot of the road when the sidewalk is less than six feet in width.

Anyone who drives into Seattle from the north or into Vancouver via Kingsway can get a pretty good idea of how a city can become a visual garbage heap by succumbing to a jungle of signs. Victoria's economic future hangs to a great extent on its ability to attract visitors by being different and pleasant to look at.

Since the health of our pocketbooks coincides with our desire to live in a city we can take pride in, let us get behind Mayor Scutumpah and the other public spirited citizens who are trying to clean up the looks of Victoria before it is too late.

COLIN GRAHAM,
1040 Moss St.

Tax Too Heavy

Municipal elections are upon us once again. I am sure that this event is causing our taxpayers and all who are interested in local government and community affairs to reflect with deep concern upon the many growing problems which beset our hard-pressed municipalities and their taxpayers.

I am equally sure that the unfortunate defeat of the Saanich school bylaw for the third time, or if it was, a protest vote against high taxation, is giving rise to ever deeper consideration of these questions. And it is not only a matter of school bylaws, for we are faced with the ever expanding need for sewer and water systems, streets, roads, sidewalks, lights, social services, administrative buildings, service personnel and the money requirements to finance them.

Obviously, while secession by Saanich from District 63 may solve the problem of passing the bylaw, it will certainly not solve the problem of financing the schools and the services mentioned above.

Education costs eat up the biggest slice of the tax dollar. However, education is not a local but a national service. Without proper education our whole economy would collapse. We must have federal and increased provincial aid for our school costs.

In short, what is needed is a new deal to meet the crisis in municipal finance. The basic principle of this new deal must be that all services not directly linked to serving property be taken over by the senior governments. These would include such heavy expenditures as education, relief, care for indigents and aged, children's aid and social welfare costs generally. Statistics show beyond a doubt that this would cut municipal taxes by 50 per cent.

ERNEST L. KNOTT,
424 Skinner Street.

By the People

On Nov. 19, 1863, in his famous Gettysburg Address, Abraham Lincoln spoke the words that were to set a standard after which all future democratic words were to be fashioned. Here I quote part of the last lines of that outstanding speech: "... that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from this earth."

Premier W. A. C. Bennett would do well to reflect on those epic words. Whether or not he subscribes to the phrase "by the people" is becoming increasingly questionable in view of the continued presence in his cabinet of rejected Agriculture Minister Steacy and Labor Minister Wicks. To be sure the implications are not good. Similarly, the phrase "for the people" appears to have lost effect in the more than two months since our provincial elections. In my opinion, a government cannot be "for the people" if it is not by the people, and certainly ministers Steacy and Wicks are not "by the people."

These two members were firmly spurned as representatives of our government and, although it is not incumbent on Premier Bennett in legal terms to remove them, he is bound by good faith to act accordingly. Yet while this is not Gettysburg, the underlying principles remain the same, thus applying as much to Premier Bennett as they do to any other head of free elected government.

WASHINGTON:

Kennedy And Canada

By MAX FREEDMAN

THE EISENHOWER administration has dramatized the balance of payments problem without solving it. In one sense, Mr. Eisenhower has made heroic action by Mr. Kennedy much easier by making himself the painful decision to reduce the number of American dependents stationed in foreign countries with American service-men and civilian officials. In another sense, Mr. Kennedy's choices have become more restrained and, more unpleasant. Can he shun the painful but necessary decisions after what Mr. Eisenhower has done?

Max Freedman

It is no answer to say that Mr. Eisenhower acted in his last days in office, while Mr. Kennedy can be excused from taking unpopular measures so soon after entering the White House. Mr. Kennedy called that nation to greatness, and he must be judged by the standards which he proclaimed for himself.

Future Policy

In judging future policy it should be remembered that Mr. Kennedy has refused to accept any responsibility for Mr. Eisenhower's decisions. Indeed, his leading economic advisor, Professor J. K. Galbraith of Harvard, has criticized the administration's program.

He has pointed out that the program, even if successful, will reduce the deficit on foreign payments by 1962 by only one billion dollars while leaving an estimated deficit more than three times that size to be dealt with by the Kennedy administration.

Mr. Galbraith has drawn up a list of 20 American commodities, beginning with steel, in which the United States has lost its competitive price advantage in world trade. He believes that the United States cannot stop the drain on its gold reserves unless it greatly strengthens its export position.

Significantly for Canada, Mr. Galbraith has refrained from endorsing Mr. Eisenhower's new policy of giving far greater scope to the program of subsidized farm exports to help bring the balance of payments situation under control.

Should Mr. Kennedy decide to continue this ill-omened directive as his own policy, the fears of Canadian farmers at being forced to endure unfair and oppressive competition would be revived, and in an aggravated form.

Larger Share

Mr. Kennedy has asked Mr. Paul Nitze, his advisor on defence policy, to review with the Eisenhower administration the question of having the European allies pay a larger share of the NATO defence costs. Mr. Jacobson, the head of the International Monetary Fund, has said these allies, particularly West Germany, can easily afford to make a larger contribution.

The issue has ceased to be a question of economics. It has become a matter for political decision.

Will Western Europe agree to negotiate with the Eisenhower administration or will it prefer to wait until Mr. Kennedy becomes the president, knowing it would be an immense relief to Mr. Kennedy if he could begin his administration without having to apply stern economic pressure to the European allies?

The charter for the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, which replaces the Organization for European Co-operation, created to distribute Marshall Plan funds, is vague and inconclusive in its essential provisions.

Chief Merit

Its chief merit is that it brings Canada and the United States into full membership in an organization with eighteen European members. But it must never be confused with being an economic council for the NATO community. Each member retains full control over its own economic policies, though it also agrees to a system of consultation and review.

When this treaty is examined in the Senate during the debate on ratification, there will be many questions on discrimination against American trade and investment, and on the contribution of Allied countries to be addressed to Canada no less than to Western Europe. It is a total illusion to believe that Canada will have nothing but pleasant days with the Kennedy administration.

REALIZATION

No man is happy who does not think himself so.

A Goose Chase

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Geographic Society led an expedition into the wilds of downtown Washington recently on a mission of international inconsequence.

Its aim: To capture a psychopathic goose which has been gambolling around the reflecting pool near the Washington Monument in defiance of the laws of nature.

West

The goose stopped off here two or three weeks ago, presumably while en route from Canada to Louisiana. It has caused no end of bewilderment among wildlife experts by refusing to move on.

There is no evidence that the goose is dangerous, but having a wild waterfowl on the reflecting pool tends to make people nervous.

On two occasions, the animal rescue league sent agents to the pool to see if they could corner the goose and persuade it to fly on south. The rescue league agents splashed around the pool until they were soaking wet, but the goose refused to listen to reason.

I am not exactly certain how the National Geographic Society got into the picture, but it somehow received a report that a Canadian bird-watcher H. Roy Ivor of the Windling Lane Bird Sanctuary near Erindale, Ontario, was missing a goose.

Ivor has been making a study of the "emotive behavior of native song birds." It is his theory that birds have personalities, but we won't get into that.

Ivor wrote to the society suggesting that the reflecting pond goose might be the one that was AWOL from the Windling Lane Bird Sanctuary. If so, he said, it would answer to the name of "Laska" and would show a marked fondness for Spanish peanuts.

Acting on this information, Paul Sampson of the Geographic staff organized an expedition of reporters and photographers and other fearless types for a new assault on the goose.

At the appointed hour, we assembled at the west end of the pool and began tracking our quarry. The goose at that time was near the south bank and was swimming east. A cold wind was blowing from the north.

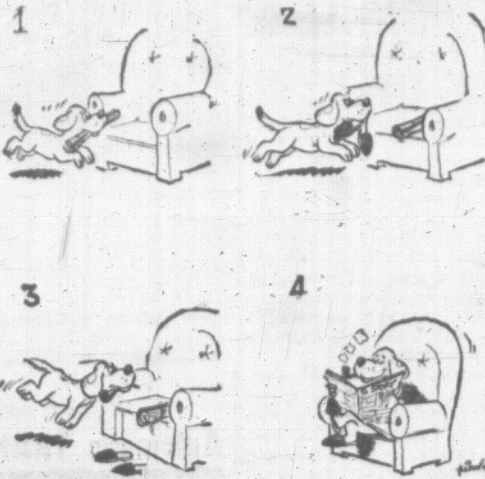

Some of us walked along the bank, flapping our arms and making honking noises. Others stalked it more stealthily, calling out "Laska, Laska" in goose-like tones. Sampson threw peanuts, which the goose ignored.

The goose swam the length of the four-block-long pond, made a u-turn in violation of local traffic regulations, and headed back west, this time listing toward the north bank.

After about 45 minutes of this, we concluded that Ivor had given us a bum tip. So we ate the rest of the peanuts and dispersed.

The expense of the expedition—15 cents for the peanuts—was borne by the Geographic Society, to whom money is no object where science is concerned.

PAPER CHARGES

Deported Men 'Fuel' For Russ

OSLO, Norway (CP)—The Liberal afternoon paper Dagbladet said today the case of William Mackie of Portland, Ore., deported to Finland on charges of being linked to Communists in the 1930s, is more effective anti-American propaganda than any major speech by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

"The drama of the deported house painter is, politically speaking, a comedy," the paper said. "And be sure that those who occupy the front seats in the East are enjoying themselves."

"This fits badly with the principles of freedom, justice and humanity about which the Western countries talk so loudly at the Paris NATO parliamentary meetings these days."

"This case makes us think of the novel, 'The Ugly American'—the biting satire of American relationships with foreign countries and foreigners, of official America's lack of the most elementary physiological understanding."

Deported Nov. 18 with Mackie, 51, from Portland, was Hamish Scott MacKay, 55, a native of Consort, Alta. He was deported to Vancouver.

Both men became fast friends during their eight-year court battle to escape deportation.

Dam Hearings To Follow Licence Bid

The B.C. government is awaiting an application from the B.C. Power Commission for a water licence before setting up public hearings on the Columbia River project, an official said today.

"We have not received an application," said the water rights official. "When and where a public hearing is to be held couldn't be decided before the application."

Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston, Attorney-General Robert Bonner and a team of B.C. officials left today for Ottawa, where they will hold policy talks with federal officials on terms of an international treaty for Columbia development.

HEARINGS PROMISED

Canada and the U.S. have already agreed on draft principles for a $450,000,000 project involving three B.C. dams, on the Arrow and Duncan Lakes and Mica Creek.

Public hearings have been promised to allow residents in the areas affected to air objections or observations.

B.C. Hydro, which will build the dams, is working on its water licence application now. It is also taking a census of all lands involved to settle ownership before making any deals.

TV Scourge Gets Everywhere

LONDON—Really, this is carrying television addiction to the ultimate.

I mean this closed-circuit viewing for passers-by who want to watch men at work on a building site. Not new to you, perhaps, but Britain's first "television observation platform" is a great novelty to Londoners and they're queuing up to look in on the tree show.

It's on Gracechurch Street in the financial district, where Taylor Woodrow, the construction firm, are digging a big hole for a new Midland Bank.

Watching people dig holes has always had a terrific fascination. Just why, I wouldn't know. And, to my knowledge, no psychiatrist has ever explained why we'll stand for hours gaping at it.

In recent years excavation-watching has been rivalled by endless gazing at a TV screen. So it was logical, I suppose, that eventually someone would combine the two.

But this latest method of watching men at work, which Taylor Woodrow set up as

Criminals Freed
ANKARA (Reuters)—Nearly all of Turkey's 20,000 convicted criminals will be freed under an amnesty law announced Sunday that will grant pardons to almost all categories of criminals except those convicted of murdering relatives. President Cemal Gursel, who led a coup that overthrew the regime of Premier Adnan Menderes in May, appears anxious to ease tension built up by unpopular laws put through by the national unity committee from which he ousted 14 members last week.

Family Farms Expected To Survive

A technical revolution in the past ten years has forced many small farms out of business, H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said here Tuesday.

Speaking at the annual convention of the British Columbia Federation of Agriculture, Mr. Hannam said the revolutionary nature of the movement has resulted in a drop of 400,000 of those engaged in agriculture during the period 1949-59.

But Mr. Hannam feels that the small farm will survive in Canada.

He did not agree, he said, with people who feel that it means the end of the family farm and that inevitably agriculture will soon be in the hands of large-scale units and big business operators.

"I do believe that family farms will adjust themselves to meet the changing times," he said.

HOME GARDEN

Four Apple Types on One Tree

The advent of fruit trees on dwarf rootstocks certainly brought them into the smaller gardens, and it is possible to buy one apple tree which will bear as many as four different varieties.

Thus, fruit trees no longer need to dominate a small garden. They may form a neat, attractive, narrow barrier between two sections of the garden by means of espaliering, or they may be grown adjacent to the lot lines as part of an ornamental boundary.

Hilda

has reduced the work involved in the regular spraying, pruning and thinning which is necessary to produce sound fruit to keep for winter.

There usually comes a time when even dwarf trees present too much of a problem, or it may become impossible to do the small amount of ladder work involved.

Fortunately in this southern coastal region, there are many other fruits which can be grown. High in nutritional value, more easily controlled, and with crops easily limited in size by the simple expedient of reducing the number of plants—these are the berry fruits, or cane-bearing fruits. Raspberries, logans and favorites, though many new variations of these are now available.

Planted this year, a crop can be picked in 1962 sufficient to make the waiting worthwhile.

Too frequently it is heard that tree fruit crops are much larger than the present family of the owner can use, and so the trees are neglected instead of being removed.

Replaced with something both ornamental and useful, the gardener would find renewed pleasure in his garden since the garden would be given a new look.

This kind of drastic treatment is frequently desirable for the well-being of both the gardener and his garden.

Color Bias in Halifax

HALIFAX (CP)—West Indies university students, said Monday they encountered a color prejudice from Canadian students and from Halifax residents.

They made their comments during a meeting with Owen Rowe, assistant commissioner of the West Indies Federation in Canada. Mr. Rowe is visiting universities which have West Indies students.

Among the complaints were that persons who advertised rooms for rent said they were taken when colored students applied; Dalhousie University

Liberals Go Eavesdropping!

More than 125 B.C. Young Liberals will dine at the unusual hour of 4 p.m. Dec. 3 to hear a special speech by national party leader Lester B. Pearson.

Mr. Pearson will speak to 15 dinners across Canada at the same time.

He will use a telephone microwave hook-up from St. John's, Nfld., to Vancouver.

More than a dozen Victoria Liberals are attending the Vancouver dinner.

"We have 125 places and we are sold out already," B.C. Young Liberal president Mike Jeffrey of Vancouver told the Times.

He said the dinner in the Grosvenor Hotel will climax a Young Liberal convention. Resolutions will be passed on to a January national rally in Ottawa.

"We sent out requests to all kinds of people, whether they are Liberals or not to send us ideas," said Mr. Jeffrey. "Our resolutions committee has been meeting for a month to screen them."

STUDENTS ATTEND

Guest speaker at the convention will be provincial party leader Ray Perrault. Heading the Victoria delegates will be Young Liberal president James Gorst. A number of Victoria College students will attend.

Mr. Pearson's speech will be from Ottawa.

Each dinner will telephone through and the connections held open all the way across the country.

Reason for the early Vancouver dinner — to make it reasonable for the rest of Canada, for it will be 8.30 p.m. in St. John's.

TESTS SHOW AUTHOR HOMICIDAL, SUICIDAL

NORMAN MAILER
... 'I am sane'

NEW YORK (AP)—Novelist Norman Mailer, accused of stabbing his wife, was taken to Bellevue Hospital Tuesday for psychiatric observation. A physician said he was "both homicidal and suicidal."

Magistrate Reuben Levy ordered the mental examination after the 37-year-old author of the best seller, The Naked and the Dead, appeared in court on a felonious assault charge. He is accused of stabbing his wife with a penknife during a party early Sunday.

Assistant district attorney William Reilly quoted a report by Dr. Conrad Rosenberg, who said he believed the novelist was having "an acute paranoid breakdown with delusional thinking."

Mailer challenged the medical report as "gratuitous and presumptuous." "My pride is that as a sane man I can explore areas of experience that other men are afraid of," he told the magistrate. "I insist I am sane."

Kennedy Plans to Cut Big White House Staff

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—President-elect John Kennedy disclosed plans Monday for a sharp slash in the size of the White House staff so he can have closer personal contact with his aides and with heads of federal departments.

India Will Shoot

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru said Monday that India would shoot down planes violating its airspace. Nehru was answering questions in parliament on how he would cope with continued Communist Chinese air violations.

of the White House staff so he can have closer personal contact with his aides and with heads of federal departments.

The next president's intentions were made known to newsmen by Clark Clifford, his deputy, in working out a smooth changeover from the Republican Eisenhower administration to Kennedy's Democratic one.

Clifford told reporters Kennedy plans to do away with the post of "the assistant to the president." Kennedy's No. 1 aide instead will be his already-appointed special counsel, Theodore Sorensen.

Clifford said Kennedy told him his staff at the White House "would not be nearly as large" as the total of 51 personal working aides of President Eisenhower. There were 15 on the White House staff during the Truman administration, Clifford added.

With respect to cutting out the chief assistant's post, Clifford said Kennedy's reason was that he did not want any buffer between him and his aides.

New Legion Badge

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Legion this month celebrates its 35th anniversary by adopting a colorful new badge. The badge is bright red, gold and bronze and will replace what an official called "a dull bronze" badge now worn by the 242,000 Legion members.

OTTAWA

has done more than in any other enterprise it has undertaken.

But rents and house prices were continuing to climb. "Until we can notice a decline, we must conclude that there is an insufficiency of housing units in Canada."

Mr. Regier also added his voice to the demand for a reduction in mortgage interest rates.

Mr. Walker said that for the first time since the war, demand for housing has become a limiting factor in home construction.

MAY BORROW 95%

Here are the main points in his plan to put new life in the housing industry:

1. Make it possible for an NHA home builder to borrow 95 per cent of the first $12,000 of lending value, compared with 90 per cent as now. On the remainder of the lending value, the ratio would remain unchanged at 70 per cent.

This change will have the effect of increasing the loan and reducing the down payment for a house worth $10,000 by $500. Mr. Walker said; for a house worth $11,000 by $550, and for houses worth $12,000 to $14,000 by $600. It will have no effect on houses worth more than $14,857.

2. Increase the present maximum loan guaranteed by the government under NHA to $14,200 from $12,800 for single family dwellings with three bedrooms or less and impose a ceiling of $14,900 for larger dwellings. At present the maximum loan for any dwelling is $12,800.

This change would have the effect of increasing the loan and reducing the down payment on houses worth $15,000 by $700, and for houses worth $16,000 and up by $1,400.

LONGER TO REPAY

3. So that borrowers will not have to make higher monthly payments because of the smaller down payment, the permissible repayment period is extended to 35 years from 30.

4. Increase to 85 per cent from 80 the ratio of lending value for rental housing loans.

5. Boost the aggregate amount of home improvement loans that can be guaranteed under the act to $500,000,000 from $200,000,000.

The works minister said Parliament will be asked to set aside $100,000,000 for loans to municipalities wishing to construct sewage disposal plants or trunk sewers.

It was proposed to amend NHA to provide for loans up to 90 per cent of the cost of a university residence, bearing the same interest rate as limited-dividend NHA loans — 5½ per cent. The maximum term would be 50 years.

PACIFISTS BUSY

Sub Enables U.S. to Stop 'Any Nation'

GROTON, Conn. (UPI)—Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, said Tuesday at the launching of the atomic submarine Ethan Allen that the United States now has the capability of destroying any nation which would dare attack.

The Ethan Allen is the first of an advance-type mobile launching ship whose 16 thermonuclear Polaris missiles can be pinpointed at targets 1,500 miles away.

Lemnitzer, in a warning aimed at Moscow and Peiping, said "The Communist leaders have respect for only one thing — military power," and "the fear of consequences" should they attempt to achieve a surprise attack upon the United States.

Shortly after the Ethan Allen was launched, the submarine was boarded by two Pacifists, who swam to it from shore. Donald Martin, 20, of Wellesley, Mass., and William Henry, 27, of Lodi, Wis., were taken into custody immediately.

Rail Service Cut

OTTAWA (UPI)—The board of transport commissioners today granted the Canadian National Railways permission to discontinue rail service between Fredericton and Newcastle, N.B.

MASSIVE STRUGGLE SEEN BY MLA

Socred Actions Widen Labor-Management Gap

Actions of the Social Credit government have widened the gap between labor and management and will accelerate the union of labor and the CCF, Oak Bay Liberal MLA Alan Macfarlane said Tuesday.

He told Victoria Liberal Association annual meeting that management can take the government's cue in getting tough with labor, after Bill 43, anti-labor statements by ministers, and prospects of more legislation.

Abolition of the B.C. Government Employees' Association dues checkoff by the government because the group was affiliated to the B.C. Federation of Labor "will not deter, but in fact will accelerate — the CCF-labor merger," he said.

"No justification can be seen for this," he added.

"Will it be surprising if management takes this as a sign to get tough with labor and thereby provoke a massive struggle between labor and management which must inevitably result in a great loss to our economy?"

"Will it be surprising if labor takes this as a sign that war has been declared upon labor; thereby putting back management-labor relations a decade or more?"

Reds Down Plane

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (Reuters)—Communist rebels shot down a South Viet Nam air force fighter about 130 miles south of Saigon, reliable sources said Tuesday.

Mr. Macfarlane said one of the provincial government's big contributions to unemployment has been a cut of 692 government jobs in 1958.

One of the agencies sadly understaffed, he said, is the B.C. Public Utilities Commission.

He said the PUC should regulate utilities such as B.C. Electric power and rail projects, but it should be given adequate staff and facilities to do it.

The fact that agreement is almost complete on the Columbia River power project has retarded prospects for Peace River hydro to be developed by Swedish financier Axel Wenner-Gren, said Mr. Macfarlane.

"Surely the premier is obliged," he added, "to be candid enough to say the Peace River power development will not go ahead for many years to come or at least to say that it will not go ahead until such time as it has customers which can use the power."

Similarly, the Pacific Northern Railway should not go ahead until it has been thoroughly examined by the PUC "or such other relevant authority."

Mr. Macfarlane added that recent school bylaw votes indicate the need for new education financing policy. Two big bylaws recently rejected were in Saanich and Lake Cowichan. Eight of 17 bylaws were defeated last year, he said.

"They were defeated because the homeowner was already paying the highest taxes in Canada."

The provincial government must provide relief from the heavy burden of school taxes, said Mr. Macfarlane.

JURY FREES HEIRESS IN MANSLAUGHTER CASE

ST. JEROME, Que. (CP)—An all-male jury today found Mrs. Beverley Ann Weary, 28-year-old heiress, not guilty of a charge of manslaughter.

The verdict was announced by foreman Guy Kirby after the jury had deliberated a total of seven hours Tuesday night and spent the night in a local hotel.

CUSTOMS

stated it could make the product in question did not mean that the article was ruled as a class or kind made in Canada.

But it is reported that this is to be changed.

Under a proposed new definition the administration will be allowed to rule that goods are of a class or kind made in Canada if one or more Canadian firms can demonstrate the ability to make a new product and to supply at least 10 per cent of Canadian demand, even before they have supplied that demand.

The ruling could be used by the government to help existing firms to develop new products that would compete with products now being brought into this country in very large numbers. It is understood that it is not the government's intention to use the proposed new ruling to establish new firms in a new line of business. However that remains to be seen.

NIKITA

"We will accept their control proposals."

He charged that the United States, Britain and Italy "keep silent about the main things" in their draft resolution on disarmament to the General Assembly.

"They speak only of some vague measures," the premier went on.

Party leaders, in the Pravda declaration, said in effect:

"The Communist party of the Soviet Union has held and still holds to the Leninist principle of the peaceful coexistence of states with different social systems and the general line of the Soviet Union's foreign policy."

"The principle does not deny class struggles. It does not mean reconciliation between socialism and capitalism. It pre-supposes intensification of the struggle for the triumph of socialist ideas, for the complete victory of socialism (Communism)."

Meanwhile... back at the office...

... an ELECTRONIC SECRETARY unit is answering his telephone. Today when you go out on business, you can put this ingenious device "on the payroll". It answers your phone, says how long you'll be away, and records the caller's message.

This automatic answering service is the clear rig for any business that wants its phone answered when the office is empty. Many firms use it to provide 24 hour service for customers. They switch the unit on at 5 p.m., and next morning attend to the calls it received during the evening.

Other companies use the ELECTRONIC SECRETARY unit strictly for their own employees. Out-of-town salesmen phone into head office at night when long distance rates are lowest. A special version of the unit answers the phone and records while the salesman transmits his day's orders.

*Reg. Canadian Patent Office

The unit is compact, attractive, easy to use. And it's rented. Costs as little as a pack of cigarettes a day. No depreciation or maintenance. B.C. Telephone keeps it in perfect condition.

Are your office communications as modern as your business? Our representative can show you many ways to save time and money; help you sell. He'll plan a complete system to suit your requirements and your budget. He'll be seeing you soon... sooner if you make an appointment through our new Marketing and Sales Department.

Want to know more about our ELECTRONIC SECRETARY unit? Phone us. In Vancouver it's MU 3-5511. Outside Vancouver, ask the Operator for Zenith 7000. (No charge for the call.) We'll send you an ELECTRONIC SECRETARY unit brochure right away.

$200,000 Bridge to Aid New Oil, Gas 'Boom' Area

By GORDON BELL
Times Business Editor

Underscoring the importance of the area to the east and north of Fort Nelson as the newest oil and gas "boom" area of B.C. is an announcement that the B.C. government is throwing a $200,000 "double-Bailey" bridge across the Fort Nelson River at the junction with the Muskwa River east of the town.

With a load capacity of 50 tons, the new bridge will carry drilling and exploration equipment across the Fort Nelson River, replacing the summer barges and winter ice bridges that have been the only access to the area. The Clarke Lake, Kotcho Lake and Pettit River fields will now have year-round access—a move well received by the oil companies operating in those areas.

Look for new financing soon for Trans-Prairie Pipelines Ltd., which will be offered initially to B.C. residents.

Underwriting of the new issue is being done by Osler, Hammond, and Nanton and Royal Securities but no details have yet been announced.

There is speculation that the issue will consist of 40,000 preferred shares of $50 each, convertible to common at $20.

Additional speculation is that Trans-Prairie will add to its present gathering system and pipeline which feeds oil from Milligan Creek, Beaton River and Boundary Lake fields to Dawson Creek and will push further south to join up with the Trans-Mountain line.

The U.S. keeps insisting it will not devalue the dollar but the market indicates that few people believe this. Gold index moving up steadily again on reports of unchecked outflow of foreign official holdings in U.S. government securities in addition to continued out flow of gold.

In the past three weeks almost $750 million in government securities were cashed in by foreign holders. At the week ended Nov. 16 holdings in these securities had been reduced to $5.46 billions and in the following week there was an outflow of gold amounting to $110 millions, reducing the U.S. monetary stock of gold to $18,006 billions.

Boom conditions in Western Europe have created better investment opportunities than are available in the U.S. where production continues to decline and it is this factor, much more than such items as American spending abroad which is hastening the flight of capital from the U.S.

Interesting question is whether the pound sterling will also come down if the U.S. does devalue the dollar. Point is that Britain is not sharing the economic good fortune which is smiling on the rest of Western Europe.

Interesting coincidence? American Metal and Foundry—which is in just about everything from nuclear research to sporting goods—sponsored an hour-long TV special Monday night.

The commercials illustrated most pointedly and dramatically the tremendously diversified nature of the company. Tuesday morning AMF made quite a gain on Wall Street which can only be explained—in the absence of any news from the company—by the preceding night's TV show.

There can be no doubt of the attractiveness of well-diversified companies. Brunswick, the old billiards and bowling ball firm, is another example of a well-diversified company and its stock is also showing gains these days.

Bethlehem Copper says that production plans on the Highland Valley, B.C., property are expected to be completed by January when the managing director of Japan's Sumitomo Metal Mining Co., which holds an option on anticipated production, arrives to visit the property. Initial production will be from surface ore. Two mill sites are being surveyed.

Operator for a 12-company group, Pacific Petroleum has made a gas find at its well three miles northwest of near-east production in the Jedney field. Well hit the Triassic at 4,680 feet and a drill stem test of 4,742-4,888-foot zone flowed wet gas at a maximum rate of 3,890,000 cu. ft. daily venting off to 3,630,000 cu. ft. in 45 minutes. The well—Pacific at Jedney No. D-97-C—is to be completed to the Mississippi plan.

Canadian Hydrocarbons of Calgary will form a new natural gas liquids company. Name and nature of the company are to be announced later.

By-law authorizing increase of authorized capital stock of Bank of Montreal, from $75 to $100 millions, will be submitted at the annual general meeting in Montreal Dec. 5.

'Jackpot' Find For City Miner

By GORDON BELL

A 100-foot shaft being sunk near the Bowron River, 30 miles due east of Prince George, holds possibilities of a jackpot for Victoria mining man Fred Garraway, 1045 Goldstream Road.

The shaft, on a section of land covered by a B.C. coal licence recently granted by order-in-council to Mr. Garraway, also holds possibilities of a mining boom for the Prince George area if it proves up the indications of a rather unique coal, uranium and vanadium deposit in the shale and sandstone formation.

The coal is almost certainly a commercial venture, Mr. Garraway feels, but it is the vanadium possibility about which he is really excited.

This could be the first commercial vanadium find in North America, Mr. Garraway told The Times.

The mineral, used in making certain types of steel, brings about $12 a pound on the present market.

An assay of samples from the Bowron River mine showed the uranium to run at about 2.8 pounds per ton—which is a commercial proposition—and the vanadium at 5.6 pounds per ton.

A much heavier concentration of vanadium would be needed to make refining a profitable business, but Mr. Garraway hopes that current exploration work will produce good results.

were an indication of a large mineral deposit.

Thinking back on it, Mr. Garraway said, he realizes now that he missed out on a fortune since the uranium discovery alone back in 1955 would have been worth a tremendous amount of money to him.

However, the coal find alone is an exciting prospect since there is every indication it can be used to supply a domestic fuel market in the Prince George area, as well as industrial developments which Mr. Garraway feels sure are coming to the area.

In addition, the coal—which is good coking type—could find an export market and will be useful as a power source for mineral extraction if the uranium and vanadium finds pay off.

Work on the new mine has been going on for about two months. A camp has been established, a 35-foot headframe constructed, and the shaft has been put down about 50 feet.

The 90-foot crosscut to the coal seam is expected to be completed before Christmas and then another two to three months should see completion of the 290-foot crosscut into the shale seams.

HBC to Consider Capital Expansion

LONDON (CP)—The Hudson's Bay Co. has announced that an "extraordinary general court" will be held in London Dec. 9 to consider increasing the company's authorized capital to £7,000,000 from £5,000,000.

Approval of this, said the announcement, will enable the company "to offer one Hudson's Bay Co. share and $14 cash for each of the outstanding common shares of Henry Morgan & Co. Ltd., in accordance with the merger plan recently announced by both companies."

15-FOOT SEAM

Tanner Gold Mines Ltd. of West Vancouver is underwriting development on the mine in return for an option on production.

About $20,000 is being spent in sinking an 8 by 10-foot shaft through about 60 feet of overburden and 40 feet of rock. At the 100-foot level a 90-foot crosscut will be run northeast to what is believed to be a 15-foot coal seam. In the opposite direction, southwest from the shaft, a 290-foot crosscut will be taken to and through the mineralized shale seams containing the uranium and vanadium.

Presence of large quantities of carbonized wood fragments in the shale also hold out hopes for germanium deposits.

Mr. Garraway came across the find by accident back in 1955 when exploring for coal.

Using an old "churn" drill, he found the uranium-vanadium shale about 3,000 feet back from the river bank. However, it was two years later before he got around to having the samples assayed and found they were radioactive.

He staked mineral claims on the property but nothing more happened until last summer when he got the break which led to present developments.

An exceptionally high river level in the spring had washed the clay river bank away and exposed the radio-active mineral seams in the shale. Exceptionally dry weather following the high water had oxidized the uranium and made it visible under the river bank overhang.

This proved to Mr. Garraway that his 1955 samples

Tommy-Joe Will Stick To Battered Soft Shoe

Coffey and Smith Prove Potent Duo for Eskimos

By DOUG PEDEN

Tommy-Joe Coffey and Jo-Bob Smith are like Edmonton's football version of ham and eggs. They just go together.

The pigskin pals both come from Texas, both have double barreled names, both are 24 and they're roommates on road trips. And what is most important to the Eskimos, they combined their talents to get the club into Saturday's Grey Cup football final at Vancouver.

In the final minute of the deciding game against Winnipeg, the Eskies were trailing the Blue Bombers by a 21 count. Then Edmonton's "Mr. Everything," Jackie Parker, faked a quick kick and lobbed a pass that Smith snatched at the Winnipeg 10-yard line.

Fullback Johnny Bright lugged the leather two more yards and then up stepped Tommy-Joe. He booted the ball between the posts with 19 seconds left on the clock to give the Eskies a 4-2 triumph and a date with Ottawa Rough Riders Nov. 26.

It was a bit of redemption for Coffey, who had missed a field-goal attempt a couple of minutes earlier after Eskimos had moved into position when Bombers were called for pass interference on a Parker toss to Smith.

Tommy-Joe is philosophical about the publicity he has received since booting the dramatic three-pointer.

"If I had muffed that one, too," he says, "they probably would have run me out of town."

"I thought I was going to make it when I got a second chance, but don't think I wasn't nervous. I was shaking like a sick puppy."

Coffey Prefers Soft-Shoe Type

Coffey is one of the few place-kickers who operates with soft-toed boots. He has a pair of the hard-toed variety, but prefers the battered boot with the slipper-soft toe.

Keys hustled his charges to the Empress Hotel and later took them to HMCS Naden gymnasium for a light workout to shake the travel kinks out of their legs.

"We did all we could in a gym," Keys said, "but we'll be outside tomorrow."

Keys was planning a two-hour session at Royal Athletic Park this afternoon and another workout at the same site Thursday, starting about 2. The club is slated to leave for Vancouver by air at 3:45 p.m. Friday.

Keys, who was constantly studying his book of plays, said that workouts in Victoria would be closed to the public and press, although reporters and photographers would be allowed in the park for 15 minutes before each practice.

Practices at Royal Athletic Park

Originally, Macdonald Park was assigned Eskimos. The change to Royal Athletic Park was made shortly before noon and granted Keys' wish that workouts would be held in strict privacy.

Bright, who suffered a charley-horse in his right thigh against Winnipeg last Saturday, and halfback Jim Lee "Cowboy" Woodruff, who suffered a knee injury earlier in the final best-of-three series.

"He's out," said Keys of Woodruff today. "It's definitely a cartilage and will have to be operated on. We're bringing Bright out today."

The Eagle has named 28 players, the limit allowed, to dress for the cup final.

The team will be decked out in new green jerseys and gold pants, bought early in the season, while Ottawa is expected to wear white sweaters. The contrast should give excellent television viewing during the game, which will be carried on the CBC national network.

The proposal means the American League would operate next year with only one new franchise, the new Washington club that fills the vacancy created by transfer of the Senators to Minneapolis-St. Paul. It would be dependent on the National League adding one franchise at once—presumably either Houston or New York, scheduled now for National League franchises in 1962.

The proposal then would be for an inter-league schedule to be worked out. Each club would play a 160-game schedule.

The American League asked the National League for its answer by Dec. 5—three days before the joint major league meetings open in St. Louis.

Trouble broke out at Leipzig Sunday. East Germany's Communist leaders on Tuesday called for severe punishment to curb rioting at major soccer games.

Showing strain of preparing club for Grey Cup battle, Edmonton coach Eagle Keys studies plays even at dinner table. Keys, who is apparently cooking up some new strategy for cup final with Ottawa, has announced workouts in Victoria will be closed to public. (Times Photo.)

Oops, Mr. Clair Wasn't Advised About Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—The gamblers have listed the odds; hotel lobbies have been cleared; police are studying their plan; fans are buying their liquids; the coaches are racking their brains—the Grey Cup stage is being set.

This is the situation as Vancouver prepares for its most uproarious weekend since 1958, when Canada's professional football classic was last held here.

Ottawa Rough Riders, eastern representatives, arrived Tuesday and stepped off the plane onto a white carpet of snow.

Coach Frank Clair worried about this.

"We haven't played a bad weather game this year," he said. "I don't like wet weather and mud. Too many unpredictable things can happen."

A few miles away at Empire Stadium groundskeepers were also fretting. But they are in constant touch with the weather office and have yet to be caught with their tarpaulin up.

Edmonton Eskimos, picked as favorites by the oddsmakers, chose to train in the more sedate surroundings of Victoria. (Editor's note to Eskimos: Sorry, but the unsettled weather conditions in Victoria are just a passing thing.)

Western money has made Eskies six and one-half point favorites while eastern oddsmakers have Eskimos at three and one-half points.

Clair says his three greatest problems at the moment are the weather, Jackie Parker and Edmonton's defense.

The elements forced Riders indoors for their first practice session here and Clair says that's where they'll stay until conditions allow otherwise.

A long-range weather forecast predicts skies will be overcast and temperatures in the high forties for the game.

When Clair has figured out how to stop Parker, then he must set about cracking the Eskimo defense. This contingent held Winnipeg Blue Bombers to a stinging seven points in the final two games of the western playoffs.

"They may lack size, but they've got a tough defensive line," said the Ottawa coach. "In fact, they have an outstanding defense."

Other people with problems are hotel managers, preparing for an estimated 10,000 visitors.

About 3,300 pounds of assorted cheerleaders and chairs will be moved from the Hotel Vancouver lobby.

NOT CONVINCING

"No, I'm not nervous," said manager Colin McCartney unconvincedly.

Meanwhile, the police philosophy is stated briefly in a 28-page master plan—"Grey Cup Operations—General Information and Operation Orders."

It also reminds them: "Best uniforms will be worn and close attention will be paid to deportment. It is to be remembered that this event will be nationally televised."

Naimark, the 1959 provincial champion, nipped Dr. Don Rees, of Edmonton, 5-4, to lift his record to 6-0.

Play in the week-long $10,000 bonspiel reaches the finals in all 10 events Friday night.

Stone, coming home three years ago, allowed Gutoski to count two. On the last shot Gutoski was light trying to come in for the tying point.

Tinling, a veteran curler here, sidelined tough Frank Avery, of Vancouver, 9-8, in scoring his sixth victory, while Hayes, winner of one of the primaries last year and runner up for grand aggregate honors, Kimberley, B.C., 4-3, in a thrilling exhibition of knockout curling.

Cats Travel in Ford Fashion; Finally Turn Tables on Bucks

Cougars 5, Portland 2

By DOUG PEDEN

George Ford was at it again and Victoria Cougars picked up the cue to wallop their most persistent tormentors of the current Western Hockey League season.

Ford, the right winger who sometimes scampers as if he had V-8 motors in his skating boots, has built up a reputation for two hockey habits. He usually does most of his scoring in the last half of a season and he has a tendency to pick up goals in bunches.

George has been doing nothing this winter to wipe out the reputation. He notched just three tallies in his first 14 games. And two of those arrived in one game.

Tuesday night at Memorial Arena, George was up to his old tricks. He had his skates shooting in high gear, banged home two goals in 21 seconds and just missed on three other times he buzzed behind the Portland defence.

And the Cats followed right along with the Ford fashion. They wrapped up their scoring in a pair of neat little bunches and pinned a 5-2 defeat on the Buckaroos.

Jim Moro's eighth tally of the season came along just before Ford's outburst late in the opening period and three goals whistled past Portland goalie Don Head in just over two minutes to send the Cats into a 3-0 lead.

Sets Stage for Canuck Meeting

Buckaroos got the puck bouncing their way in the second session and jumped back into the battle by way of goals by ex-Cougars Gordie Fashoway and Gordie Haworth to make it anybody's scramble going down the stretch in the third period.

But it was suddenly all over for Hal Laycoe's Bucks with a little over two minutes remaining when the Cougars nailed down the victory with two markers in 50 seconds. Doug Macauley got the first one with a quick shot from a scramble in front of the Portland net and Gerry Goyer wrapped it up by batting in the rebound of a shot by Ford, who had blazed around defenceman Bill Davidson and barely missed in his bid for a hat trick.

By their victory, the Cats climbed into a fourth-place deadlock with Vancouver Canucks, setting the stage for a clash with the defence-minded Canucks Saturday night at Memorial Arena.

They also escaped some extra labor.

Result, Not Team, Most Satisfying

Coach George Agar had squirmed while the Cougars turned in what were probably their two worst performances of the campaign in two earlier outings against the Bucks, losing by scores of 5-2 and 7-3.

Agar worked his crew through a long skating session Monday in an effort to improve their zest and mobility and had suggested it would be a two-hour session today if the Cats again failed to keep up with the agile Buckaroos.

Cougars didn't exactly wheel and deal in the manner that

Agar had hoped for, but he took the view that the result was the thing and called off today's scheduled practice session.

"They were sluggish at times," said Agar, "maybe they have been getting too much skating. We'll see how they go after a day of rest."

It was the sluggishness and the reluctance of some forwards to tend to their back-checking shores that gave the Bucks their openings for the Portland goals. But the Cats took command when it counted most and were the better club in the closing exchanges.

And Agar could find no fault with the efforts of the Moro-Bill Johansen-Macauley line, which was the best Cougar combination on the ice.

Johansen, probably the most effective of the Cats, was skating tirelessly and set up several plays. Moro, proving a real sparkplug, got the important first goal and Macauley, working well both ways, notched the big insurance tally.

It had to be admitted that the Bucks, except for Haworth and Arnie Schmutz, weren't at their free-wheeling best, which Laycoe blamed partly on a storm-tossed boat trip from Port Angeles.

But the 2,161 fans were sent home happy by the Cougar scoring bursts. And, as Agar, said the result's the thing.

Rangers' Cullen Breaks Hand Bone

FIRST TO HIT 1,000

Howe's Next Point Another Milestone

DETROIT (UPI)—Gordie Howe, just one point away from becoming the only man in history to score 1,000 points in regular season National Hockey League competition, had his eyes set on a bigger goal—20 years in the league.

Howe will get his chance to hit the 1,000-point mark for goals and assists Thursday night when Detroit Red Wings play host to Montreal Canadiens.

But the star right winger, in his 15th season with the Wings, wasn't even sure at first that he needed only one more point.

"I thought I needed two more," he said. Then he checked with his wife. "She tells me that's right, I only need one more."

Howe also needs only three more points to surpass the record of Maurice "Rocket" Richard of 1,091 points scored in regular season and Stanley Cup play.

Howe passed Richard's mark of 965 points in regular season play last spring.

City Trustee Won't Seek Re-Election

Second Greater Victoria school trustee to drop out of the election race next month was announced Monday night. Walter Thomson, a trustee representing the city for the past four years, told the school board he will not run for re-election Dec. 8 due to ill-health. But, like Mrs. W. W. McGill who has represented Saanich on the board, he indicated he might run again in a year or two.

Ralph Fryer, 244 Richmond, a commercial photographer, said he will contest the seat vacated by Mr. Thomson.

Board members rejected an intermunicipal committee request that free pencils and writing exercise books be abandoned in Grade 1.

They said teachers and principals felt the standardized equipment had improved writing habits. The issue was an educational one and beyond the jurisdiction of local municipalities, they contended.

Some 32 classes in elementary schools have more than 40 pupils each, the board was told in a report on overcrowding.

Saanich Reeve George Chatterton will open officially the new Gordon Head High School at 8 p.m. Nov. 30.

'No Trouble' On Financing For Columbia

'I'm Optimistic' Premier Declares

Premier Bennett said today he still awaits a letter from Ottawa, answering the problems of Columbia River power financing, but he expects "no difficulty."

He read at a press conference a telegram from federal Finance Minister Donald Fleming dated Nov. 17 saying "I expect to write you soon."

It added that preparation for the session of Parliament which opened on that day had delayed a reply to Mr. Bennett's questions.

The premier said discussion of financing the $450,000,000 project would be between himself and Mr. Fleming. He does not expect the matter to be raised at talks between B.C. and Ottawa policy teams which opened in the east today.

Those talks are discussing details of a treaty with the U.S. for developing the hydro and flood control resources of the river, he said.

Reports from Ottawa say one of the items under discussion is establishment of a special agency for overall co-ordination of the big project.

Those reports also say financing will be discussed, despite denials from Mr. Bennett and Lands Minister Ray Wiliston.

Mr. Bennett said policy discussions with Ottawa so far have been "very friendly" and he expects them to stay that way.

"I am optimistic about the Columbia," he said.

"I expect no difficulty on financing."

He added, however, that he never has received a formal offer from Mr. Fleming of a loan for half the cost of the dams.

ONE LAST FINE

Junkyard Beckons Jalopy

Winston Roger Boulter, 2721 Cavendish, was junkyard-bound with his jalopy but did not quite make it before a policeman stopped him.

In city police court today he pleaded guilty to operating an improperly equipped vehicle—no horn, windshield wipers, foot brakes, hand brake and licence plate—and to driving without insurance.

"I was on my way to the junkyard when I was stopped by the officer," he told Magistrate William Ostler.

"Do you realize what might have happened if you'd had an accident on the way to the junkyard—no insurance, no brakes . . .?" Mr. Ostler asked.

He fined the youth $35 for the first charge, $25 for the second, and said he hoped the car was off the road.

Boulter said he thought it was, having sold it to a friend for more than what the junkyard offered.

'No Possibility' Bennett After Top Sacred Post

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today "there is no possibility" he will seek the national leadership of the Social Credit party.

Present leader Solon Low announced today he will take no further active part in politics and is retiring from his Alberta-teaching job.

A new Sacred Leader will be picked at a convention next year.

Of Mr. Low's retirement, the premier said:

"I would hope he would give it some further consideration. It would be a bad loss."

OPENS DRIVE

USC Head In Victoria

Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova, diminutive director of the Unitarian Service Committee who travelled 35,000 miles this year by jet, jeep, and her own two feet on behalf of the USC, arrived here today on a pilgrimage that started Sept. 6 in St. John's, Nfld.

Her objective was to announce the USC annual fund, which aims at $240,000 for 70 projects in nine countries, mainly India, and 10,000 layettes for babies in Greece, Korea and Hong Kong.

Her 35,000-mile jaunt was her seventh world survey of depressed areas where the USC gives aid. She will tell the story of her "Journey With a Purpose" at the Ingham Hotel, 2907 Douglas, Thursday at 8 p.m.

Admission will be free, but fire marshal's orders will limit the audience to 200, therefore those interested should be early. A colored movie of USC work, titled "Reaching for the Sun," will be shown for the first time.

Cars First

Victoria Automobile Club has asked the B.C. highways department to allow cars and buses to come off the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen ferry ahead of trucks.

The club says if trucks get off first then a traffic hazard is created on approaches to the ferry when the cars catch up and try to pass.

GAS COMPANY MARKS 100TH ANNIVERSARY

Gas division of B.C. Electric marked 100th anniversary of Victoria Gas Co., its parent organization, by lighting a handsome centennial torch at dusk Tuesday on the Pandora Avenue side of the B.C. Electric building.

Guest of honor, and seen in picture wearing light coat, was Alexander (Sandy) Smith, 89, who worked for the old company from 1901 to 1903, then returned to the B.C. Electric gas division in 1910 and worked continuously until his retirement in 1943.

He was accompanied by his son, Duncan, also with the B.C. Bill Mowat, gas distribution supervisor, can be seen in picture handling one of original tapers used by gas lamp-lighters of 1890s.

CITY, SAANICH ENGAGE IN FERRY NAME 'WAR'

One of the biggest "sea battles" in this area began shaping up today as Mayor Percy Scourrah fired a broadside back at Saanich council.

The prize both sides are contending for is the name of the third government ferry that will ply between Swartz Bay to Tsawwassen.

"I wrote to Premier Bennett six weeks ago asking that the new ferry be named Mv. Victoria or Mv. City of Victoria," Mayor Scourrah said.

His announcement followed Saanich council's decision this week to request that the ferry be named Mv. Saanich in honor of the whole peninsula.

Premier Bennett hasn't declared a winner yet but he did announce a small elevator will be installed in the new ferry for the aged and handicapped.

CURTIS RUNS AGAIN

First Alderman Declares Candidacy

Ald. A. I. Curtis today filed his nomination papers for re-election.

He was the first of four aldermen whose terms expire next month to declare himself a candidate in the Dec. 8 civic election.

Ald. Elmer McEwen previously announced he would not stand for re-election. Ald. Arthur Dowell and Ald. Hugh Ramsay, the other incumbents whose terms run out, have not indicated yet whether they will seek further terms.

Only other aldermanic aspirant to file nomination papers so far is Victor Williams, making a second bid.

A. W. Toone, who lost one previous attempt; Elgin Neish, who has lost several contests, and newcomer Charles Nelles have said they will file papers before nominations close on Dec. 1.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Does a writer go through some sort of legal process, and where, in order to be permitted to use a non-de-plume? E.P.

A. No, he doesn't. But it would be advisable not to use such names as Hemingway or Toynbee as competition from these sources is a bit stiff. If you managed to hoodwink a publisher using the name of a famed writer, chances are you would wind up in the "giving" end in court.

Q. I understand purchases made by British Columbians in other provinces are subject to the 5 per cent sales tax. If this is so, how can the collection of this tax be enforced?

A. The tax is applicable to goods imported to British Columbia and to goods picked up by British Columbia travellers in other provinces, and shipped here. Under the act, if a British Columbia resident made a purchase in Calgary, for example, and shipped it home, he is liable for tax. This is, however, a stickler, and difficult to enforce.

Rites Thursday For Former Lithographer

Funeral services will be held at McCall's chapel Thursday at 3:15 p.m. for Arthur Herbert Vivian, 71, city resident and lithographer here since 1914, who died Monday.

Born at Port Arthur, Ont., he started his apprenticeship in Winnipeg in 1905. He worked for The Daily Colonist and later Colonist Lithographers Ltd., and was one of the original members of the lithographers' union.

Surviving are the widow, Rebecca, at home, 1131 McKenzie Street; two sons, Charles Howard and Leslie Arthur, in Victoria, and three grandchildren.

Interment will be at Hatley Memorial Gardens.

FARMERS CLAIM POLICY 'UNDEMOCRATIC'

School Taxation Plan Opposed

Strong opposition to a proposal allowing school boards to levy taxes without consulting taxpayers was voiced at the annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture here today.

William Martin, of the B.C. Beef Cattle Growers' Association, said there is a move afoot to have the Public Schools Act amended to permit a school ## district to levy a tax for capital purposes up to half of one per cent of the operating section of its budget.

"This would permit school districts to levy taxes without submitting bylaws to ratepayers," he said. "This is undemocratic and should be opposed."

Farmer delegates also asked that the federal government do something to stop the shipment of musty and mildewed grain for the feeding of poultry.

Jack Wood, president of the B.C. Poultry Association, suggested that the grain is contributing towards turkey and poultry diseases in this province.

"The grain is not nutritious and is unpalatable and is retarding the health and natural growth of livestock and poultry," he said.

The B.C. government was also accused of neglecting the administration and extension machinery of the department of agriculture.

Mr. Martin said that over the past five years, whenever a position became vacant in the department it had never been filled. This has resulted in a shortage of technical help to aid B.C. growers.

MONTE ROBERTS

QUESTIONS I WOULD BE HAPPY TO ANSWER IF ONLY I WERE ASKED

QUESTION: When the rain comes down, what makes it so wet?

ANSWER: Essentially the same set of ingredients as when the rain comes up. Rain (either down or up) is composed mainly of H<sub>2</sub> and O. The H<sub>2</sub> is okay, but the O is "orrible."

Q. When I buy a package of cigarettes from a coin machine, and I get a package of matches with "thank you" on the cover, what do I reply?

A. Either say "likewise" or quit smoking.

Q. Why is the Canadian Rugby Football field 110 yards long, and the American Rugby field only 100 yards long?

A. The Canadian Rugby Field was invented by a ticket manager who was faced with nothing but demands for seats on the 50-yard line. The Canadian field was not one, but TWO 50-yard lines.

Q. Isn't that a bit silly?

A. Tried to get a Grey Cup ticket lately?

Q. Why isn't there a direct transportation route from Victoria to Vancouver?

A. The good citizens of Victoria have had this matter under advisement for approximately 100 years. Eventually the good citizens decided, if a chap must go to Vancouver, the least we can do for the chap is to give him a chance to catch his breath and gather his resources at a stopping point en route.

Q. We had quite a lot of Daylight Saving Time last summer, and my question is, (a) whatever happened to all the Daylight we Saved, and (b) when do I see daylight again?

A. (a) The Daylight we Saved has been exported to Australia. Haven't you heard of the Commonwealth Trade Agreement? (b) Try to sleep in on your day off.

Q. Will Eagle be given the Keys to the city when he returns to Edmonton?

A. Please repeat the question at approximately 4 p.m. Saturday.

Q. When winter comes, can spring be far behind?

A. Yes.

Q. Which team is going to win the Grey Cup final?

A. Ottawa.

Q. Whatever became of Waldo Skillings?

A. Who?

These Tinkling China Bells Will Brighten Your Tree

By PENNY SAVER

Something new's been added to Christmas tree decorations—this year it's dainty china bells that tinkle merrily when in motion. One set of eight consists of Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, rotund snowmen, angels with gold-tipped wings and smiling cherubs. All come with gold ribbons for hanging on the tree. This set sells at 98 cents. Each little bell measures about two inches.

Selling at the same price are white china bells that are decorated with lighted candles and holly wreaths and inscribed with festive greetings. There's 10 in this set. Smaller set of six sells at 79 cents and consists of tiny angels, in full-skirted red and white robes and delicate wings of white and gold.

Even teen-agers love to find odd little toys and gimmicks in their Christmas stockings. One that's bound to create fun in any gathering is a metal jumping frog that sells at 15 cents. This wee beastie has a hidden spring. Release it, put it on the floor and at unpredictable moments the frog will leap all over the place.

As energetic as Mexican jumping beans are colorful plastic doodle bugs that, held in the palm of the hand, tumble and turn like the greatest of circus acrobats. These are priced at 35 cents a pair.

Young and old alike will find Mexican candles I saw today quite fascinating. Looking just like ordinary birthday cake candles, they will relight themselves each time they're blown out.

Repetitive lighting can be stopped by pinching lighted end. Candles come in either pink or blue and sell at 19 cents each.

For many years, children have been unable to resist the thrill of looking through a kaleidoscope and watching the designs change—as if by magic.

Ones I've seen measure about eight inches in length and sell for 45 cents.

What is Christmas without at least one toy with which to make jubilant noises? Many a young cowboy—or cowgirl—will jump with joy when they find their very own guitar waiting for them on Christmas morning. Selling in a downtown store are guitars in mottled brown plastic that are decorated with pictures of a cowboy astride a bucking horse and cactus. Guitars will bring a lot of fun and are most inexpensive at 59 cents.

Up-Island Honeymoon Follows Wedding in Centennial Church

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Albert Dent are making their home at 2931 Dean Street after a honeymoon spent Up-Island. Their wedding took place in Centennial United Church with Dr. S. J. Parsons officiating. Arrangements of white chrysanthemums decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride is the former Arleen Heather Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert McGregor Robertson, 2520 Wootton Crescent.

Her wedding gown of patterned silk brocade was floor length and featured a basque bodice with semi-scooped neckline and a draped cummerbund effect at waist. A large bow adorned back of the full-hooped skirt and sleeves ended in lily points. A chapel-length veil of silk illusion filmed from a coronet of seed pearls with drop pearls set over her brow. She carried a prayer book with white feathered chrysanthemums and a gardenia. Completing her ensemble was a silver locket which her father gave to her mother on their wedding day.

Mr. Robertson gave his daughter in marriage. Attendants wore short-length gowns of taffeta in autumn tones, styled similarly to the bride. Bows of matching material were in their hair and they carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Sam Will was matron of honor and maids-of-honor were Miss Karen Jacobson and Miss Carol Holmes. Miss Anetta Mae Robertson was the junior bridesmaid.

Little Bonnie Nevison, as flower girl, was in a sea green frock of lace and taffeta and carried a basket of white chrysanthemums.

The groom is a son of A. V. Dent, Victoria, and Mrs. S. Cosh, Cobble Hill. Groomsman was Jerry Davis and best man was Alan Wedman. Terry Nex and Robert Cosh acted as ushers. After the wedding, 160 guests were received at a reception in the Golden Slipper Supper Club, where a three-tier wedding cake centred the head table, flanked by white roses and purple heather. Charles Will toasted the bride. For travelling, the bride donned a lamp black suit with black accessories. She wore a white gardenia corsage.

Bride Makes Her Own Gown In White Delustre Satin

When Miss Eveline May Rabey was married to Paul Emile Calve recently, she chose a classic style gown of white de lustre satin, and made it herself. Full floor-length skirt was slightly en train. Bodice featured sweetheart neckline and sleeves ended in lily points. Chapel-length silk illusion veil misted from a dainty crown of seeded pearls and opalescent crystal drops. Single strand of pearls and cascade bouquet of red roses and white carnations completed the picture.

Bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Rabey, 887 Brett Avenue, and the groom is the son of Mrs. W. Calve, 224 Michigan Street. Centennial United Church was decorated with white and bronze chrysanthemums and white ribbons and roses marked pews for the double-ring evening ceremony. Rev. S. Parsons officiated.

Soloist, W. Alexander, sang "Because" during signing of the register.

Bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was accompanied to the altar by four attendants. Maid of honor, Miss Sandra Highet, of Vancouver, was in a full-skirted champagne toned gown with matching shoes and hat. Senior bridesmaid, Miss Carol Martin, wore a similarly styled gown in copper peau de soie. They carried bronze chrysanthemums.

Junior bridesmaids, Miss Rheta Black and Miss Leona McClean, wore willow green taffeta dresses with bronze highlights. Their accessories were in tone and they carried chrysanthemum bouquets.

Jack Calve was best man and ushers were George Paul, Ron Minnis, Gordon Rabey, Jr.

Reception followed in the Golden Slipper Supper Club where arrangements of red rosebuds decorated tables and a three-tier cake was cut. The bride's uncle, J. S. McClean, proposed the toast.

Out-of-town guests at wedding were Miss Sandra Highet and Mr. and Mrs. R. Pizzolon.

For a honeymoon trip to the mainland, the new Mrs. Calve donned a black Bling-Bling sheath dress which she topped with grey fur jacket. Black and purple accessories and purple chrysanthemum corsage completed the ensemble.

The couple are now making their home at 2733 Blackwood Avenue.

DEAR ABBY

No Rest for the Weary!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I drive a trailer truck for long-distance hauling. I came in off the road after a 2,200-mile trip and the first thing my wife said was, "Let's go for a ride."
I tried to explain that I wasn't in the mood but she said she didn't care, that she and the kids hadn't been out of the house for nine days and she wanted to get out a little. Do you think I should have taken her for a ride?
TEED OFF.
Dear Teed: You should have. But not then.

DEAR ABBY: Why did you tell that woman she shouldn't shake her dust mop out the window? If it saves her walking down a flight of stairs and going out to the back yard, I can't see what's wrong with it. If she were my neighbor, I'd say, "Shake it my way, Dearie." I'm for anything that saves work.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Halloween Is Past, But a Mask Might Be For You

Daily cleansing and daily lubrication are the two most important factors in skin care. However, there are other treatments which give the complexion a big lift in beauty. Today I am thinking of the facial or the mask. The mask stirs up circulation and is corrective to large pores which often mar the skin.

There are all sorts of masks on the market, but you can mix a good one right at home. Some of the old standbys are the almond meal mask, the clay pack and the corn meal mask.

A clay pack is made by mixing equal parts of peroxide and witchhazel and adding one-fourth pound of Fuller's Earth to the liquid. Use enough to make the mixture smooth and easy to apply to the neck. As in the case of all packs or masks leave the mixture on the face and neck until it dries. Then wash it off with warm water and rinse with cold water.

Before applying a mask be sure that your skin is absolutely clean.

There is an Epsom Salts facial which is very refreshing and whips up the circulation. The prescription is two tablespoons of Epsom Salts to one pint of water. Place two bowls in front of you. In one bowl put one pint of hot water. In the other one pint of icewater (with some ice in it, too). To each of these bowls add two tablespoons of Epsom Salts.

When the salts have dissolved wring a towel out in the hot water and hold the towel to your face and neck. Do this several times or until your skin is hot. Next wring the towel out in the cold water and hold to the face and neck until the epidermis is thoroughly cooled.

By then your skin will be glowing. Apply a lubricating cream and let it soak in for a few minutes before removing. If you would like to have my leaflet "Reconditioning At Home" which gives you directions for home-made beauty aids, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 49 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tea-Bazaar

Raines, Mrs. W. Tilley and Mrs. N. Sladden. Those in charge of stalls were: Tomboles, Mrs. H. Thornber, Mrs. L. Cuthbert; doll, Mrs. L. Thompson; home cooking, Mrs. A. Reed, Miss H. Currie; candy, Mrs. R. Corners, Mrs. R. McDowell; fancywork, Mrs. J. Watson, Mrs. J. Harper; chicken dinner, Mrs. D. Peck; white elephant, Mrs. W. Bentham; bingo, Mrs. P. Osborne, Mrs. M. Carter; tea tickets, Mrs. M. Wright.

Salt Spring Notes

Mrs. Cecil Springford has had her two granddaughters, the Misses Gillian and Leslie Springford of Duncan visiting her for several days. Mrs. Springford leaves shortly to visit with friends in Port Alberni.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wilkins of Vancouver have had their daughter, Miss Martha Wilkins of Vancouver as a guest for the past week. Mr. and Mrs. J. Byron of North End Road have had as their house guest for the past month their son, Mr. Kenneth Byron, who is presently with the Second Black Watch at Camp Gagetown, N.B.

Fabrics Keynote New Fashions

PARIS (Reuters)—Fashions inspired by supple feather-weight fabrics are the keynote of the Paris winter collections. Every sinuous new silhouette, every bias cut and retrospective effect from the 1930s, has been achieved with fluid fabrics, contoured close to the body and used without stiffening or lining.

This is the basic secret of today's soft new dresses, with their flattering mobile cuts and easy flow.
Lacy new tweed coatings weigh less than eight ounces a yard. Woolen dress fabrics in gauze, organdy and crepe weaves seem as sheer as window curtains and are actually as easy to drape.
These special trends in textiles constitute the very essence of new fashions.

FARMERS MAY APPEAL EGG CASE DISMISSAL

B.C. farmers may appeal a Saanich police court judgment dismissing a charge against Saanich grocer Henry Eng of selling eggs below the minimum mark-up over wholesale rates.

Magistrate William Ostler last Thursday threw out the case on a legal technicality.

Delegates at the annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture here Tuesday urged that the judgment be appealed.

As an alternative, they urged that the present act be replaced by an improved one to stop stores from depressing farmers' markets.

They also passed a resolution requesting continued enforcement of provincial laws relating to loss leaders on agricultural products.

The charge against Mr. Eng alleged he sold Grade "A" large eggs at 39 cents a dozen last March, less than a five-cent mark-up over the wholesale price, in contravention of the Commodities Minimum Loss Act of 1937.

Magistrate Ostler dismissed the case on the grounds that there had been no trade licences produced at the trial to show that Mr. Eng was operating a business at the time of the alleged offence.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Grain Mediator To File Report

(Compiled From CP)

VANCOUVER—Federal mediator F. Craig Munroe said Tuesday he will send a report containing his final recommendations on Vancouver's grain strike to Labor Minister Starr in Ottawa today.

"I am also handing a copy of the report to a representative of the union and another to a company representative. I have asked them to consider the report and meet with me Friday to give me their final answer."

"I cannot say what will happen after Friday."

The statement was made by Mr. Munroe, a New Westminster lawyer, following further talks with union and company representatives.

The strike has been in effect two weeks.

The 325 striking grain handlers are demanding a 14-per cent wage increase in a two-year contract. They now get $2.01 an hour plus a cost-of-living bonus of 11 cents an hour.

Mr. Munroe has been conducting negotiations between the parties for nine days.

BURGLARY WAVE

VANCOUVER—Police here Tuesday began mapping new tactics to curb a wave of burglaries that in the last 24 hours have totalled more than 35. Losses have totalled $1,865.

Deputy Chief Gordon Ambrose said a manpower and equipment survey was under way to determine the best method of combatting the rash of break-ins.

He indicated police will beef up protection of homes and businesses through an extensive redeployment of officers and squad cars.

During the weekend 84 break-ins were reported and loot totalled more than $4,000.

SKI PREXY FINED

VANCOUVER—The president of a ski club was found guilty in police court Tuesday of keeping a common gaming house. The charge against Basil Pantages, 27, a restaurant operator, was laid following a police raid on a benefit by the Tyee Ski Runners Club. He was fined $250 or six months.

WOMAN JAILED

LANGLEY—A 46-year-old woman was jailed for six months Tuesday for stabbing her husband in the back in a drunken argument. Magistrate M. W. Mulligan told Mrs. Helen Thomas it was a serious offence and warned her that she might have been facing a murder charge instead of one of assault.

'LURE' RAPED

VANCOUVER—The immigration department here said Tuesday it will seek action through the director of Canadian immigration in London, England, to stop publication of misleading advertisements aimed at luring immigrants to Canada.

SOVIET, RED CHINA WOO WEAK

Red Aid at New High For Underdeveloped

PARIS (AP)—Soviet bloc and Red Chinese economic aid to underdeveloped nations reached record levels by the middle of this year, a report prepared for the NATO parliamentarians' conference showed today.

The report, drawn up by Senator Jacob Javits, Republican from New York, was based on United States intelligence reports.

The Soviet bloc is leading the communist economic offensive, Javits said, accounting for 75 per cent of the aid to backward and new nations, many of them in Africa.

The total of credits and grants to these countries in the last decade has gone over the $4,000,000,000 mark. During the 12 months ended in mid-1960, aid totalled $1,420,000,000, or 82 per cent more than in any previous 12-month period.

The report noted that Communist aid for military purposes has been declining and now amounts to 20 per cent of the total outlay.

The United Arab Republic, India and Indonesia are receiving 68 per cent of the communist bloc aid which is being handled by 6,900 Communist technicians, the report said.

"Most countries apparently are still satisfied with the competence and behavior of the Communist bloc technicians, and their continues to be little evidence that they are being used for propaganda or subversive purposes," the report said.

PLOT BUYERS 'PROTECTED' BY CABINET

Buyers of cemetery plots will get extra protection under new regulations approved for the Public Utilities Commission by the B.C. cabinet.

All cemeteries now are required to allocate specific space to customers.

"We have actually had cases where salesmen sold more space than they had developed property," said a PUC official.

Clients would buy "reserved" space but would not actually be assigned any particular plot, he said.

Clients must now get a statement of all property and services.

The PUC has also set up regulations on filing of rates by cemeteries. A standard form is now required, with full details of all types of rates, blueprints and maps and a report on available space.

PRIVATE OWNERSHIP OFFER MADE

Ross Bay Cemetery Cleanup Proposed

City parks committee Tuesday took its first step towards clearing away broken down concrete and stone work in Ross Bay cemetery and also decided to hear a proposition for turning the burial ground over to private enterprise.

Cuba Expels Doctors

HAVANA (Reuters)—The National Medical College today declared 49 surgeons traitors and dishonorably expelled them for leaving Cuba. This brings to 259 the number of doctors expelled for this reason.

Permission was asked of the Public Utilities Commission to remove broken and unworkable curbs surrounding about 100 plots. The commission, expected to hold a hearing on the application, must give its approval before the work is done.

Chairman Ald. M. H.

Mooney said he had been approached by a man who said he was interested in taking over the civic cemetery as a private enterprise.

Ald. Mooney said he was told there was still room for 4,000 plots, enough to keep a commercial enterprise going for a considerable number of years.

Ald. Elmer McEwen said he doubted so old a civic cemetery could successfully be transformed into a commercial enterprise.

NEW DEVICE SAVES NURSES MILEAGE

NEW YORK (AP)—An electronic system that provides constant watch over seriously ill patients went into operation Tuesday at New York's Roosevelt Hospital. A pilot study serving a 17-bed unit was begun.

It works this way: A nurse sits at a monitoring board and, with the flick of a dial, receives a constantly flowing stream of information originating from the bedside of patients.

Flashing on the monitoring board are reports on pulse rates, respiration and temperature—as well as constant readings from electrocardiograms and electro-encephalograms.

Counting Goes On and On . . .

WASHINGTON (AP)—Recount requests could delay even longer than usual the final, official tabulation of the vote in the Nov. 8 election.

With President-elect John Kennedy's popular vote lead now cut below 175,000, Republicans were challenging results in sections of Illinois, New Jersey and Texas, and looking for possible grounds for similar action elsewhere.

Few, however, expected any overturn of Kennedy's electoral vote margin over Vice President Nixon. In that tally, Kennedy led Nixon 300 to 223, with 269 needed for election. Fourteen other electors, in Alabama and Mississippi, are not pledged to either.

Latest popular vote figures, with more than 1,100 voting units still unreported and some absentee ballots still to be counted, had Kennedy with 33,919,296, Nixon, 33,744,669. Kennedy's margin was a bare 174,627 over Nixon, and his share of the vote cast for the two major candidates was 50.13 per cent, to 49.87 for Nixon.

Meanwhile, completion of tabulation of unofficial returns from California's 58 counties Monday showed Nixon with a 21,637 edge over Kennedy. Final statewide totals gave Nixon 3,240,005; Kennedy 3,218,348.

LINDSAY HEAD

Bill of Sale Registry Centralized

A new B.C. government central registry for all bills of sale will open in Victoria Jan. 1.

It will be headed by George Lindsay, superintendent of motor vehicles, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said Tuesday.

Mr. Lindsay will remain motor vehicle chief. All bills of sale, conditional sale agreements and assignment of book accounts may be registered at the new agency.

At present there are 22 county court registries across the province.

The new office will use electronic and mechanical tabulation equipment introduced this year to the motor vehicles branch.

Creation of the registry follows amendments at the last session of the Legislature to the bills of sale, conditional sale and assignment of book accounts acts.

The new office will offer a quick checkpoint on loans, chattel mortgages and agreements made anywhere in B.C. provided they are registered within 21 days.

Mr. Lindsay already runs a similar registry for motor vehicle sales, set up in 1932.

Mr. Bonner said the new registry will be the first of its kind in Canada.

Don Magnuson Wins

SEATTLE (AP)—Representative Don Magnuson, Democratic incumbent from Washington's seventh district, was declared the winner Sunday in the last remaining undecided congressional race of the Nov. 8 U.S. election.

ANONYMOUS GIFT OF $1,000 to Royal Jubilee Hospital was turned over to J. C. Thow, centre, honorary treasurer, by Joe Casey, right chair-

WOULD END UNFAIR COMPETITION

Invoke Anti-Dumping Laws, Hearing Urged

VANCOUVER (CP)—Invoking of anti-dumping laws against Canadian editions of foreign magazines would remove the inequitable competition that has made Canada's periodical press the most inadequate of all major Commonwealth countries, the royal commission on publications was told Tuesday.

Edwin Cops of Ottawa, Manager of Realm News Service Limited, which circulates editorial material to newspapers, magazines and other publications, made the statement in a brief presented to the commission during the second day of its public hearings here.

He said that if Canada's periodical publishing industry is an essential one—and Prime Minister Diefenbaker had said it was—it should have the same protection from unfair foreign competition as any other industry.

TIME, DIGEST CITED
This protection could be afforded Canadian periodicals by applying anti-dumping tariffs to the editorial content of the Canadian editions of foreign publications, such as Time and Reader's Digest.

The commission, with M. Grattan O'Leary, president of the Ottawa Journal, as chairman and comprising advertising executive John George Johnston of Toronto and vice-president Claude P. Beaubien of the Aluminum Company of Canada, will complete its Vancouver hearings today.

It moves on for sessions in Regina Thursday and in Winnipeg Friday.

WORLD'S POOREST
In his submission, Mr. Cops, who worked for Time Inc. for seven years, contended that without a single weekly magazine being published in Canada, this country's periodical press is almost the most inadequate in the civilized world.

He said the industry in Canada is thoroughly depressed and the fundamental cause is inequitable competition from foreign publications with Canadian editions.

"They are a cleverly camouflaged exercise in dumping," he said.

There were eight weekly periodicals in Canada before the Canadian editions of Time and Reader's Digest showed up in the 1940s. Now there is none.

TRUE STANDARD
In considering the Canadian editions from the viewpoint of foreign competition for the industry in Canada, the true standard of price setting was

'I'm Sensitive' Says Nazi Killer

NEW YORK (AP)—"I carried out my orders," says Adolf Otto Eichmann, the former SS officer who herded millions of Jews to their death in wartime Nazi Germany.

He says in his personal memoirs that he was "merely a little cog in the machinery" that handled the mass executions.

"With us an order was an order," he says. "If I had sabotaged the order of the one-time Fuehrer of the German Reich, Adolf Hitler, I would have been not only a scoundrel but a despicable pig."

The first installment of Eichmann's memoirs is published in the current issue of Life magazine.

The memoirs were obtained from a German journalist, Wilhelm Sassen.

Eichmann, abducted from Argentina last spring by secret agents, now is awaiting trial in an Israeli prison.

"Where I was implicated in the physical annihilation of Jews," he says, "I admit my participation freely and without pressure."

"After all, I was the one who transported the Jews to the camps. If I had not transported them, they would not have been delivered to the butcher."

"It would be as pointless to blame me for the Jewish problem as to blame the official in charge of the railroads."

"At heart I am a very sensitive man."

UBC Periodical Wins Praise From O'Leary

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian Literature, a quarterly publication edited by Prof. George Woodcock and published by the University of British Columbia, was held up Tuesday as one of the type of magazines which will best serve to help Canadians find their identity and maintain it.

M. Grattan O'Leary, chairman of the royal commission on publications, told Mr. Woodcock that it would be magazines of this nature that would do the most toward shielding the Canadian identity from that "almost inevitable pressure from our neighbor to the south."

"These are the magazines I would look to to maintain the soul of Canada," Mr. O'Leary said. "I am quite impressed with this and I wish to God we had more of them."

Mr. O'Leary remarks came following presentation of a brief by Mr. Woodcock on behalf of Canadian Literature, which he described as a cultural magazine devoted to an investigating and critical review of Canadian cultural development.

1,500 CIRCULATION
Mr. Woodcock said the magazine, in operation for 18 months, has a circulation of about 1,500 in Canada, the United States and parts of Europe and that it operates on a deficit covered by a grant from the Koerner Foundation here.

He made two recommendations which he said would aid such publications:

1. That the federal government be urged to distribute Canadian cultural periodicals as part of their plan for spreading information about Canada abroad and that it buy perhaps 300 copies of each bona fide periodical of this type for distribution to Canadian embassies and missions in foreign countries.

2. That advertisers and advertising agents be urged to recognize their responsibility as patrons of the arts and to take their part in the task of projecting Canada to Canadians by supporting cultural magazines through advertising in them.

SOLUTION FRIDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller can be happy about one thing that happened this summer and fall—"The Misfits." The movie which cost them their marriage is excellent. Miller's conscientious writing and re-writing plus John Huston's dedicated directing "brought out a new dimension in Marilyn." (Personally I was quite content with her old dimensions.)

Red Buttons, who's off to Arusha, Tanganyika, Africa (pop. 7,698), near the Belgian Congo, to film "Hatiari," with John Wayne, was advised to hop over to Ethiopia and visit Haile Selassie, who doesn't have a lot of guests, since Addis Ababa isn't exactly on U.S. Route 1. Red will be sending out Christmas, New Year's and Valentine cards from Arusha's Hotel Safari.

Beverly Aadland's due to make her Manhattan cafe debut. Anna Maria Alberghetti signed for her first Broadway musical, Gower Champion's "Carnival." Desi Arnaz'll see Lucille Ball in "Wildcat"—again—in Philadelphia. Don Ameche will return to Broadway in the musical, "Thirteen Daughters."

DON AMECHE

back to Broadway. He'll fly to Hawaii to discuss it with the writers. Connie Francis was the first singer signed for Jack Benny's February TV spec, "Remember How Great?"

The comedy duo of Foster and Dean had an amiable bust-up. Yul Brynner will move his headquarters from Switzerland to Paris. The new El Morocco'll display the gems of three or four famous firms. D.C. buzz: The Kennedy-Nixon meeting was supposedly arranged by Herbert Hoover and Joseph Kennedy. Novelist Françoise Sagan dug the jazz at Eddie Condon's.

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe. Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Steve Clark, age 10, of Bessemer City, N.C., for his question:

Why is there no dew in the daytime? You must get up with the early bird to see the dew. In fact, you may have to get up before the early bird, for the dew falls before the sun rises. Actually, it forms in the night or early, early morning when the sky is clear and not a breath of wind ruffles the leaves. It does not rise up from the ground and it does not fall down from the sky. Conditions have to be just right for the dew to form and these conditions happen only at night. The ground and the lower leaves must be very chilly, more chilly than the air around them. During the day, even in the winter, the sun takes the chill off the surface of the ground. In the sunshine, the earth and solid objects near the ground are warmer than the air around them. Dew can form only when these solid objects are cooler than the air.

You can see how this happens with a glass of ice water in a warm room. Soon the outside of the chilly glass is sprinkled with dewy drops of water. Someone may tell you that the glass of ice water sweats. You wonder how the ice water got through the solid sides of the glass onto the outside. Actually, it did not. The sweat on the outside of the glass came from moisture in the air. It is water squeezed out of the air. And this is exactly what forms the dew. It is hard to realize that there is moisture in the air, but there is. This moisture is in the form of vapor, an invisible gas which mingles and hides with the other gases in the air. The thirsty air is always drinking up water from the seas, from the rivers, from the damp ground and from the laundry on the line. This water evaporates, turns into vapor and disappears.

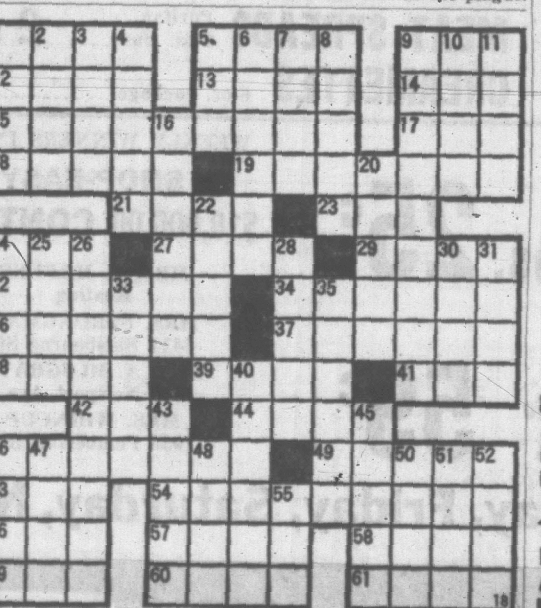

Dew forms from the vapor hidden in the night air. After sunset, the earth loses its heat fast. The ground soon becomes chilly. It chills off faster than the air above it. The air that touches it becomes cooler. This cooler air is forced to give up its vapor which turns to drops of dew. The same thing happens to the glass of ice water. The warm air in the room is loaded with vapor. As this air touches the cool glass it becomes cooler. The cooler air gives up its moisture as sweat on the outside of the glass.

There is always vapor in the air, even over the driest desert. The warmer the air, the more vapor it contains. Imagine a box one yard long, one yard wide and one yard high. Now fill it with air from a summer day when the temperature is around 85 degrees. There may be enough vapor mixed with that air to fill a drinking glass. Now fill the box with air from a frosty morning. This chilly air could hold enough vapor to cover the bottom of a saucer. Now if the summer air were chilled, it would have to give up some of its vapor. This vapor would turn to drops of dewy moisture.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Voni Todd, age 12, of Visalia, Calif., for the question:

Why did the Egyptians worship cats? The ancient Egyptians certainly treated their cats with respect and held them to be sacred animals. Of course, it is not hard to become fond of a furry, affectionate pussy cat. But the Egyptians of old had even better reasons for treating their cats with care. History tells us that in the past great plagues swept over the civilized world and countless numbers of people died. Everyone dreaded his Black Death or bubonic plague and no one knew when it would strike. The Egyptians, however, noticed that the plague rarely struck a city where there were plenty of cats. Therefore, they reasoned, the cats must keep the plague away. And in a way they did. Some of the dreaded plagues were spread by rats and cats destroy rats. So, where cats were plentiful, rats were scarce and so was the plague.

Storm Damages Small Vessels At Mill Bay

Woods Operations Forced to Close

First big winter storm, which brought rain, snow and gale-force winds to central Vancouver Island Tuesday, damaged a number of boats at Mill Bay, stopped work on many construction projects, and saw two logging operations in the Cowichan district shut down.

At Mill Bay, which was fully exposed to southeast winds which gusted up to 60 miles per hour, a number of small boats were torn loose from the moorings and smashed to pieces.

Work stopped for the day on a number of construction projects, including Nanaimo's new sewage system.

WOODS SHUT

The storm brought snow to many areas, dumping several inches at Meade Creek and Gordon River where logging operations of Western Forest Industries Ltd. were shut down to idle 200 loggers. They were sent home at noon when trucks were unable to negotiate roads, and will be called back "when conditions permit."

Nanaimo River division of Macmillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd. shut down at 10 a.m. Tuesday but the men were back at work today. Other logging operations through the central island, although hampered by wind and snow, continued to operate.

Logging camps in the Quatino area on Vancouver Island are also feeling the effects of the first heavy snowfall of the winter season.

It is reported that loggers are coming out of the camps in the Holberg, Mahatta and Seymour Inlet districts.

Mountie as Symbol Spurned by Officer

Use of an RCMP figure to symbolize Canada in fairs, parades and pageantry and to label products ranging from beer to rice is undignified for the force and costs taxpayers too much money.

Assistant Commissioner D. O. Forrest, head of RCMP's giant "E" Division, told the Victoria Kiwanis Club Tuesday that demands to have the force take part in public affairs are increasing and disturbing to the RCMP.

"Surely there is some other adequate way we can advertise Canada or attach a label to Canada without always employing the figure of a Mountie. And I'm thinking in terms of the commercial field," he said.

MAPLE LEAF

If the beaver and maple leaf are not dramatic enough as symbols, something that is ought to be found, he told the club.

He said it is cheapening to use the red coat to promote every event taking place between Tatamagouche and Port Hardy.

Gulf Island Camera Club Holds Showing

GANGES — A picturama was a tremendous success as the first venture for the Gulf Islands Camera Club, held in Mahon Hall here.

Winning prints and slides were on exhibit during the afternoon and evening.

Excellent photographic displays by George Young and Pete Frattinger of Ganges, and Stanley C. Dakin, ARPS, of Nanaimo, were lent for the occasion. Mr. Frattinger and Mr. Young were judges.

The grand award went to Mrs. W. Hastings for her seascape slide.

Officer Transferred

GANGES — Const. Harry Bonner, RCMP, who has been here for three years, will be transferred at the end of the month to Victoria subdivision. He will be replaced here by Const. K. R. Acquilone of Fernie.

(From Duncan Bureau) A home on Ingram Street, that once was one of Duncan's finest, fell victim to wrecking crews Monday and Tuesday.

Built around the turn of the century by C. H. Dickie, MLA for the Cowichan district at the time and later a member of Parliament for many years, it is being torn down to make way for the B.C. Telephone Company's new automatic exchange building.

The stately residence had a succession of owners, many of them doctors, after Mr. Dickie sold it to a Dr. Watson in 1912. Last medical man to own it was Dr. C. H. Beevor-Potts, who sold it in August, 1950, to the IOOF. B.C. Telephone Co. purchased the house and adjoining property from the Odd Fellows' lodge two years ago.

A $198,500 contract for construction of the two-storey, telephone exchange, which will be located opposite the new post office, has been awarded to the Vancouver contracting firm of Hodgson, King and Marble Co.

Construction is slated to begin as soon as the house is completely dismantled and the site cleared.

NEW EXCHANGE

Automatic switching equipment for the new exchange will cost an additional $500,000 and conversion of outside lines and cables still another $70,000.

The Duncan telephone system is scheduled to go automatic in 1962.

B.C. Telephone Co. has announced no plans for disposal of its present building at the corner of Jubilee and Kenneth Streets.

Obedience Trophy Goes To Salt Spring

GANGES — The team competition trophy was won by the Salt Spring Island Dog Obedience Training Club at the trials held Sunday at Duncan.

Six teams competed from Mount Brenton, Nanaimo, Victoria, Parksville, Duncan and Salt Spring Island.

The trophy had been held by Duncan for a number of years. Teams consisted of four dogs and handlers. Winning team score was 75 1/2 out of a possible 800 points.

The Salt Spring club has been in existence for only eight months and under training of Mrs. Margaret Best of Crofton has had splendid results.

On the winning team were Mrs. N. A. Howland, team captain; Mrs. J. Harkema, Mrs. J. Hawksworth and Mrs. V. M. Grant.

Eleven dogs from the Island competed in the novice class in the afternoon. In addition to the team members to qualify were Mrs. H. Hoffman, Miss M. Cummings and Mrs. H. Deyell.

The offending hunters were checked and notified of the suspensions by members of the Chemainus Rod and Gun Club who patrol the popular hunting area.

Duncan Student On 'Adventure' To Ottawa

(From Duncan Bureau) Duncan Rotary Club will sponsor an "Adventure in Citizenship" again next year.

A top-ranked student from one of the district high schools will be selected for a trip to Ottawa, where he or she will enjoy a tour of the capital city, visit places of historic interest, inspect the Parliament Buildings, and meet members of Parliament.

Duncan was top Canadian club and second in the district, which includes northwest Washington, in attendance last month with an average for four meetings of 97.75 per cent.

Candidate Urges Amalgamation

NANAIMO — The city must "sell" surrounding districts on the advantages of amalgamation. W. "Bus" MacDonald said here while campaigning for a seat on city council next month.

He said the Harewood district in particular should become part of the city.

Six candidates will contest the three vacant seats on the council.

Coroner Named

The provincial government has appointed a new coroner for Lake Cowichan.

He is Colin Leslie Anderson, of Honeyman May, formerly deputy to Dr. Edgar M. Gee, who has now moved to Victoria.

CAUSE OF MOST ACCIDENTS

Alcohol Highway Killer

Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi was correct when he stated that alcohol is responsible for 70 per cent of all traffic accidents, Duncan Rotary Club was told this week.

Said William G. Wilson, executive director of the B.C. Alcohol Research and Education Council: "I don't know where the minister got his figures, but I would say he is quite correct."

A former police officer, Mr. Wilson said that although he is an abstainer he does not hate alcohol nor does he have the right to tell people they should not drink. His job, he said, is to provide an accurate understanding of the effects of alcohol.

The three areas in which the council works, he said, were with the alcoholic, in the field of traffic safety and in crime prevention.

The Alcohol Research Council, Mr. Wilson concluded, is not sponsored by any one church or group but operated on grants from various organizations. It recently received a grant of $10,000 from the provincial government.

MUM ON CHANGES

Bennett May Name Ministers Monday

B.C. cabinet changes will probably be made next Monday, Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today.

He told a press conference: "I hope to have them next Monday."

Mr. Bennett did not disclose whether the changes would introduce new members, or would merely be a shuffle of existing ones.

Two jobs must be filled: labor and agriculture.

Mr. Bennett's visitor before seeing the press today was Labor Minister Lyle Wicks, defeated at the Sept. 12 election along with Agriculture Minister Newton P. Steacy.

Mr. Wicks said afterwards, "I haven't anything to say regarding my future plans at this time."

Mr. Steacy is on a train bound for Vancouver from Eastern Canada. He is not expected to return here before Friday.

Premier Bennett said their

He said he expected to make the changes Monday as he leaves for Quebec City Wednesday for a provincial premiers' conference.

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — A sweeping change in the customs regulations that the government is planning to introduce at this session of Parliament will make it simpler for Canadian manufacturers to capture the market for products now encountering stiff opposition from abroad, it was learned Wednesday.

The change will strengthen the protectionism accorded Canadian industry under the present government and could hit hard such products as those in the electronics field. Products imported from such countries as Japan, for example, would feel the new squeeze.

The proposed change it is understood will alter the definition of a "class or kind made in Canada" in favor of Canadian manufacturers.

At present by order-in-council passed in 1936, under a Liberal administration, an article is not deemed to be a class or kind made in Canada unless a quantity equal to 10 per cent of the Canadian consumption of such an article is made or produced in this country.

To determine the "Canadian consumption" the authorities now find out the number of articles in question that are imported and add to that the number made in Canada.

Products coming into Canada under the designation "of a class or kind not made in Canada" come in at a lower rate of duty than those admitted as "of a class or kind made in Canada."

In the past just because a firm had the equipment and

France, Algeria Get Policy Vote

PARIS (Reuters)—President Charles de Gaulle's government today announced a referendum on its Algerian policy would be held simultaneously in France and Algeria within the first two weeks in January.

The cabinet also announced another appointment in its program to create semi-autonomous institutions for Algeria before the north African territory votes in a second referendum on its own future relationship with France.

Information Minister Louis Terrenoire disclosed that Jean Morin, 44, prefect of Toulouse, will succeed Paul Delouvrier as French delegate-general in Algeria.

In his new post, Morin will serve as the chief representative of Louis Joxe, a veteran diplomat who was appointed Tuesday as French minister for Algeria.

Won't Pay Army Upkeep

BONN (Reuters)—An American financial mission left here by air today after West Germany turned down an urgent request to start making immediate cash payments for the upkeep of United States troops stationed on German soil.

West German Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard told reporters at the airport that Germany "had to say no" to the request during two days of talks here.

Erhard, who led the German delegation at the talks, said his side was "somewhat surprised" that the Americans "put such great emphasis on the question of stationing costs."

Reporters at the airport asked Erhard whether the payments question was expected to come up at any further American-German negotiations. He replied emphatically "no."

Political observers said failure to reach agreement on so important a question to the United States was unprecedented in American-West German relations.

Informed sources said the American negotiators went into the talks to get a substantial immediate payment to help the serious American financial situation, reflected in a decline in U.S. gold reserves to the lowest level in 25 years.

But the negotiators failed to convince West Germany to cover the dollar outflow arising from the stationing of some 500,000 servicemen and their dependents here—an annual sum of more than $600,000,000.

The Germans refused to be budged from their position that support of this kind must be arranged on a multilateral basis through NATO—which would take some months, the sources said.

The Germans also thought direct payment to the U.S. was likely to bring similar demands from other Atlantic alliance countries such as Britain, which maintains large forces in Germany.

In Frankfurt today, the federal bank announced West Germany's foreign currency reserves have fallen for the first time since February. In the week to Nov. 15 the reserves fell by about $21,000,000 to $7,336,000,000 although gold reserves remained unchanged.

The conference communiqué said the Americans "warmly welcomed" West Germany's plan to make about $700,000,000 to $824,000,000 available in aid to underdeveloped countries next year.

Battles Chinese Reds On Coexistence Policy

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia, in a tough rejoinder to its critics within the Communist camp, said today peaceful coexistence still is a controlling principle in its policies.

The declaration in Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, indicated that hard bargaining on Communist world tactics still is going on in the Red "summit" meeting here that has been in progress for two weeks although some kind of paper compromise may be reached eventually.

Only two days ago the official People's Daily of Peking, in an evident attack on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's theories of peaceful coexistence and the possibility that a third world war may not be inevitable, said it was an illusion to think communism can get along with imperialism.

Peking, in the role of stand-pat revolutionism, called for all-out Communist backing for revolutionary movements in underdeveloped countries. It urged, however, in a seeming mood of compromise, that Communists "turn the possibility of averting world war into a reality."

A-BAN STILL PRINCIPLE
The Pravda article also said that banning of nuclear weapons still was a controlling principle in Soviet policy.

In a separate interview with Khrushchev on disarmament, it quoted him as saying the Soviet Union would accept any type of controls if an agreement is reached for general and complete disarmament.

Khrushchev denied that Russia is seeking to dodge control under any future disarmament agreement.

The premier repeated his recent statement to the United Nations General Assembly in New York that "if a decision is taken on total and universal disarmament, on the destruction of weapons, we shall accept any control."

"In such a case we shall be ready to let even the most rabid haters of communism and socialism draft the control regulations," he declared.

TWO TV CAMERAS

U.S. Orbits Weather 'Eye'

CAPE CANAVERAL (UP)—The United States shot a camera-bearing Tiros II weather satellite into a near perfect orbit today and it began sending back pictures of the earth's cloud cover as a forerunner of weather forecasting from space stations.

The first Tiros satellite, sent up last April, found a tornado and a hurricane, and today's more sophisticated vehicle was expected to do even better although both are experimental devices.

After its first pass Tiros II sent eight blank pictures because it was tipped at an angle at the time. But then it sent a series of pictures to Fort Monmouth, N.J., where they went through processing before being sent to Washington.

SMALL CAMERA

The first pictures were taken by the smaller of the 250-pound satellite's two television cameras. Still to be tested was its larger, wide-angle lens camera and infra-red sensors which are to be used when the portion of the earth being photographed is dark.

A Thor-Delta rocket carried the 250-pound Tiros II to America's 14th space success of the year. A Transit III—a navigation-aid satellite—was poised on a nearby pad for an attempt at number 15 next week.

The orbital flights contemplated later would involve placing a manned vehicle in orbit around the earth.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union said today the United Nations General Assembly had done serious harm to the Congo situation by voting to seat a delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin, bitter over Tuesday night's assembly

action, told a press conference the 99-nation assembly had acted under U.S. pressure to rubber-stamp a decision opposed by many African nations.

Today's Traffic Trouble Tip

Stay in Own Circle Lane

By AB KENT

Sooner or later, even the least vocal motorist begins singing the Fountain Circle Blues.

This is an off-beat number, the rhythm out of time, often punctuated by the snarl of exhaust, a tire squeal and batherings from behind the steering wheel.

It's a sad tune, but like the old-time blues represent misery, Fountain Circle is the monkey on the Victoria motorist's back.

The 10-year-old traffic-sorting device at the multiple intersection of Government, Hillside, Gorge and Douglas was conceived in the belief that drivers can be courteous and sensible.

While it has not quite worked out that way and despite the fact that several drivers have pulverized cars trying to ignore it, the circle remains and drivers must cope with it using patience and giving way to traffic approaching from their left.

"Old Subscriber" asks what lane he should use within the circle when driving south in the curbside lane on Douglas.

There is no firm rule here, but discretion comes first of all. The ideal practice is to stay in the outer lane of the circle itself, rejoining the outside lane beyond the circle without crossing a broken line getting there.

Each movement must be properly signalled.

Once in the outside lane there should be no need to depart from it or the outer circle lane in negotiating any part of Fountain Circle.

(Incidentally, in all articles dealing with lane-driving, the term "inside lane" will be used in reference to the lane nearest the centre line. "Outside lane" will designate the lane nearest the curb.)

Entering the circle from the centre lane is a little different because it is necessary to cross the outer circle lane to get to the inner one, which might be preferable for traffic southbound on Douglas intending to turn onto Hillside, for example.

After you, my dear Alphonse.

If you have a traffic question, send it in care of Times "Traffic Troubles."

Home Construction Primed By Gov't Housing Bill

OTTAWA—A government program to revamp the National Housing Act with a view to priming the home construction industry and otherwise providing jobs was unveiled in the Commons Tuesday by Works Minister Walker.

"The scope of this thing is tremendous," said Mr. Walker toward the end of a 20-page speech in which he outlined the proposals, which apparently represent the government's spearhead attack on the problem of unemployment.

Maximum loans to home builders under NHA would be increased, and down payments slashed; municipalities would be further assisted in carrying out slum clearance projects, and in constructing sewerage works; loans would be provided for construction of student residences at Canadian universities.

Mr. Walker announced the proposals in introducing a resolution paving the way for the bill which will give them effect.

Earlier, the Commons gave first reading to another government measure aimed at reducing unemployment. It would authorize federal guarantees on bank loans to small businessmen seeking to expand or renovate their premises.

Such loans would be available to businesses with a maximum gross revenue of $250,000 a year. The proposed maximum duration is 10 years, and the loan limit $25,000.

Mr. Walker's announcement of government plans to stimulate house building was characterized by J. R. Garland (L., Nipissing) as coming too late.

PLANS CONGRATULATED

Mr. Garland, Liberal housing critic, said the government should act at once to lower the present 6 per cent interest rate on mortgages guaranteed by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Erhart Regier (CCF, Burnaby-Coquitlam) congratulated the government on its plans in the housing field—where "it

Original Work For Music Week

An original composition by a Victoria composer, Rodney Webster, will be the Musical Art Society's gesture in recognition of Canadian Music Week which is currently being celebrated.

Album Leaf, piece for clarinet and piano, is being played tonight at Holyrood House, as part of the society's November program.

Barry Moncur, solo clarinetist with HMCS Naden band and Victoria Symphony, and the composer's wife, pianist Faith Webster, are the performers.

Accompanied by Dorothy Gough, contralto soloist Sara Dillstone, a newcomer to the city, will sing a group of songs which will include "He Was Despised" from Handel's Messiah, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from Samson and Delilah, the "Seguidilla" from Carmen, Hageman's "Do Not Go, My Love," and the folk song, "I Know Where I'm Going."

Duo pianists Margery Vaughan and Rita Wallis will play a group of numbers highlighted by an arrangement of Elgar's "Enigma" Variations. The concert will begin at 8.30.

'CANADIAN' GOES ON 1961 CENSUS

OTTAWA (CP)—Despite protests from several Quebec centres, Ottawa has decided to include the word "Canadian" on the list of racial origins in the questionnaire for the 1961 census.

Trade Minister George Hees, who made the announcement in the House of Commons last week, said Tuesday the word will even be put atop the list.

"I can't think of a better place for the word on any list of racial origins," he said. Mr. Hees added the decision was taken for no other reason but to facilitate the task of enumerators.

During the last census, enumerators had to write the word "Canadian" or "American," 152,000 times because people gave them as their origin.

Lionel Chevrier (L—Montreal-Laurier) said the adjective described nationality rather than racial origin. The Quebec Provincial Chamber of Commerce, in a letter addressed to the former trade minister, Gordon Churchill, said the introduction of the word Canadian on the list was a misleading nature.

Many people of different racial origins would say they were of Canadian origin, especially if the word was put atop the list.

Quebec observers report that French-speaking Canadians feared assimilation and considered census results important in determining their numbers, how many Canadians of French origin had adopted English as their mother tongue and how many had become members of Protestant churches.

HUSH STRIKE PLAN LIKED BY WORKERS

HALIFAX (CP)—About 150 machinists at work in defence department installations here decided at a special meeting Tuesday night to vote on a "secret" strike method.

Ralph A. Hayter, labor council representative of Local 1250, International Association of Machinists (I.A.M.), said after the meeting 95 per cent of the members present were in favor "of any action the executive wishes to take to obtain higher wages."

Most of the workers are employed at the naval dockyard. Mr. Hayter said a secret ballot vote would be conducted "as soon as possible."

The machinists, paid by the federal government at a rate designed to equal corresponding private industrial rates, claim they are not receiving the prevailing rate.

Mr. Hayter said members of Local 1250 now receive a basic hourly wage of $1.88.

Although civil servants cannot legally go on strike, Mr. Hayter said his local had worked out "a form of strike" which would not violate the machinists' allegiance to the Queen. The method is a secret, he said.

Charge against a 30-year-old Saanich man of shooting with intent to wound was dismissed in Saanich police court Tuesday on the grounds that he acted in self-defence of himself, his home and his family.

Freed was Raymond Frederick Peterson, longshoreman, of 927 Scotia.

Magistrate William Oster handed down the decision after hearing how three drunken men awoke Peterson and his family early October 20 and asked for "some more brew." Victim of the shooting was the accused's next door neighbor, James Turnbull, an unemployed British immigrant, who had been in Canada for about four months.

Summing up the case, Magistrate Oster said: "This man (Peterson) must have known his children were crying and his wife was afraid."

"It was 4.30 in the morning. He was alone and his wife

"If You Come Closer, I'll Fire"

When the hearing resumed Tuesday, the court heard evidence from the two principals in the case; Peterson's wife and a firearm expert.

James Turnbull said that on the evening before the incident he and his wife had drunk about three bottles of beer. They returned to their home, 919 Scotia, and he went to bed about 1 a.m. on the morning of Oct. 20.

He was awakened shortly afterwards by his brother and Heugan and the three of them drank a mickey of rum and almost all of a half-gallon jug of home-made blackberry wine. "I went into the bathroom and when I returned my brother and his friend had disappeared," he said.

'We Struggled Then Gun Went Off'

Defence witness, Mrs. Janice Peterson said she, her husband and three children were asleep when they were disturbed by a commotion.

Her husband went to investigate and returned to ask her to telephone the police.

"The people next door have started the argument again," she reported accused as saying.

When she heard Turnbull at the window on the night of the shooting she called police a second time and asked them to hurry.

"I was scared," she said. "Our two older children, a girl aged eight and a boy, seven, were crying."

Peterson told the court that when he went to the door for the first time in answer to the knocking two men asked him

CALIFORNIA Court of Appeal ruled Tuesday that Mae West does not have exclusive right to the name Diamond L.L. Miss West sued for $50,000 damages when Marie Lind was billed as the one and only Diamond Lil at a San Francisco night spot last year. This was not unfair competition, the court decided in ruling against Miss West.

(Royal): Never having seen or read William Inge's play I can't be sure whether or not scripters Harriet Frank Jr. and Irving Ravetch, tinkered with it in the name of "adult" drama.

Again I am guessing, but I would suggest that but for two or three scenes Warner's "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs" could have evaded the censor's "restricted" brand and thus played before the average patron as a warm, moving story about family life in the 1920s.

It all starts off when Robert Preston, a harness salesman in a small Oklahoma town, loses his job when his firm decides that it has been run over by the advances of mechanization. His nerves a-jangle he returns home and is engaged soon in a bitter fight with wife Dorothy McGuire, accusing her of physical coldness to him and even of lavishing all her attention upon their children, teen-age daughter Shirley Knight and 10-year-old son, Robert Eyer. His wife hotly retorts that with his being away on the road so much she has had to play both father and mother to the children and, as for her physical aloofness from him, this was caused by their constant bickering over money. As a final shot she accuses him of having an affair with widow Angela Lansbury who runs a beauty shop in town. Meanwhile the children are experiencing difficulties with life, especially bookish, shy Shirley who eventually meets up with young cadet Lee Kinsolving, Jewish son of an un-caring movie star mother. Acting, direction, sets, photography are all good and it seems a shame that this couldn't have emerged as a wholesome family film.

MONTE ROBERTS

QUESTIONS I WOULD BE HAPPY TO ANSWER IF ONLY I WERE ASKED

QUESTION: When the rain comes down, what makes it so wet?
ANSWER: Essentially the same set of ingredients as when the rain comes up. Rain (either down or up) is composed mainly of H<sub>2</sub> and O. The H<sub>2</sub> is okay, but the O is 'orrible.

Q. When I buy a package of cigarettes from a coin machine, and I get a package of matches with "thank you" on the cover, what do I reply?

A. Either say "likewise" or quit smoking.
Q. Why is the Canadian Rugby Football field 110 yards long, and the American Rugby Field only 100 yards long?

A. The Canadian Rugby Field was invented by a ticket manager who was faced with nothing but demands for seats on the 50-yard line. The Canadian field has not one, but TWO 50-yard lines.

Q. Isn't that a bit silly?
A. Tried to get a Grey Cup ticket lately?

Q. Why isn't there a direct transportation route from Victoria to Vancouver?
A. The good citizens of Victoria have had this matter under advisement for approximately 100 years. Eventually the good citizens decided, if a chap must go to Vancouver, the least we can do for the chap is to give him a chance to catch his breath and gather his resources at a stopping point en route.

Q. We had quite a lot of Daylight Saving Time last summer, and my question is, (a) whatever happened to all the Daylight we Saved, and (b) when do I see daylight again?

A. (a) The Daylight we Saved has been exported to Australia. Haven't you heard of the Commonwealth Trade Agreement? (b) Try to sleep in on your day off.

Q. Will Eagle be given the Keys to the city when he returns to Edmonton?
A. Please repeat the question at approximately 4 p.m. Saturday.

Q. When winter comes, can spring be far behind?
A. Yes.

'No Trouble' On Financing For Columbia

'I'm Optimistic' Premier Declares

Premier Bennett said today he still awaits a letter from Ottawa answering the problems of Columbia River power financing, but he expects "no difficulty."

He read at a press conference a telegram from federal Finance Minister Donald Fleming dated Nov. 17 saying "I expect to write you soon."

It added that preparation for the session of Parliament which opened on that day had delayed a reply to Mr. Bennett's questions.

The premier said discussion of financing the $450,000,000 project would be between himself and Mr. Fleming. He does not expect the matter to be raised at talks between B.C. and Ottawa policy teams which opened in the east today.

TREATY
Those talks are discussing details of a treaty with the U.S. for developing the hydro and flood control resources of the river, he said.

Reports from Ottawa say one of the items under discussion is establishment of a special agency for overall coordination of the big project.

Those reports also say financing will be discussed by Bennett and Lands Minister Ray Wiliston.

Mr. Bennett said policy discussions with Ottawa so far have been "very friendly" and he expects them to stay that way.

"I am optimistic about the Columbia," he said.

"I expect no difficulty on financing."

He added, however, that he never has received a formal offer from Mr. Fleming of a loan for half the cost of the dams.

ONE LAST FINE

Junkyard Beckons Jalopy

Winston Roger Boulter, 2727 Cavendish, was junkyard-bound with his jalopy but did not quite make it before a policeman stopped him.

In city police court today he pleaded guilty to operating an improperly equipped vehicle—no horn, windshield wipers, foot brakes, hand brake and licence plate—and to driving without insurance.

"I was on my way to the junkyard when I was stopped by the officer," he told Magistrate William Ostler.

"Do you realize what might have happened if you'd had an accident on the way to the junkyard—no insurance, no brakes . . ." Mr. Ostler asked.

He fined the youth $35 for the first charge, $25 for the second, and said he hoped the car was off the road.

Boulter said he thought it was, having sold it to a friend for more than what the junkyard offered.

'No Possibility' Bennett After Top Sacred Post

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today "there is no possibility" he will seek the national leadership of the Social Credit party.

Present leader Solon Low announced today he will take no further active part in politics and is retiring from his Alberta teaching job.

A new Sacred Leader will be picked at a convention next year.

Of Mr. Low's retirement, the premier said:

"I would hope he would give it some further consideration. It would be a bad loss."

CITY, SAANICH ENGAGE IN FERRY NAME 'WAR'

One of the biggest "sea battles" in this area began shaping up today as Mayor Percy Scourrah fired a broadside back at Saanich council.

The prize both sides are contending for is the name of the third government ferry that will ply between Swartz Bay to Tsawwassen.

"I wrote to Premier Bennett six weeks ago asking that the new ferry be named Mv. Victoria or MV City of Victoria," Mayor Scourrah said.

His announcement followed Saanich council's decision this week to request that the ferry be named Mv. Saanich in honor of the whole peninsula.

Premier Bennett hasn't declared a winner yet but he did announce a small elevator will be installed in the new ferry for the aged and handicapped.

CURTIS RUNS AGAIN

First Alderman Declares Candidacy

Ald. A. I. Curtis today filed his nomination papers for re-election.

He was the first of four aldermen whose terms expire next month to declare himself a candidate in the Dec. 8 civic election.

Ald. Elmer McEwen previously announced he would not stand for re-election. Ald. Arthur Dowell and Ald. Hugh Ramsay, the other incumbents whose time runs out, have not indicated yet whether they will seek further terms.

Only other aldermanic aspirant to file nomination papers so far is Victor Williams, making a second bid.

A. W. Toone, who lost one previous attempt; Elgin Neish, who has lost several contests, and newcomer Charles Nelles have said they will file papers before nominations close on Dec. 1.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Does a writer go through some sort of legal process, and where, in order to be permitted to use a non-deplume? E.P.

A. No, he doesn't. But it would be advisable not to use such names as Hemingway or Toynbee as competition from these sources is a bit stiff. If you managed to hoodwink a publisher using the name of a famed writer, chances are you would wind up in the "giving" end in court.

Q. I understand purchases made by British Columbians in other provinces are subject to the 5 per cent sales tax. If this is so, how can the collection of this tax be enforced?

A. The tax is applicable to goods imported to British Columbia and to goods picked up by British Columbia travellers in other provinces, and shipped here. Under the act, if a British Columbia resident made a purchase in Calgary, for example, and shipped it home, he is liable for tax. This is, however, a stickler, and difficult to enforce.

OFFICIAL CITY PROTEST OVER TCA INCREASE

Mayor Percy Scourrah said today he has officially protested Trans-Canada Airline's fare increase here and has asked for a public hearing.

The demand, backed unanimously by aldermen, was sent to the air transport board in Ottawa.

Mayor Scourrah carried an informal protest to board chairman P. Y. Davoud when he was in Ottawa recently.

OFFICIAL

"This time I have written an official protest to him," the mayor said. The city also wants a public hearing before the increase from $5 to $7 for a one-way flight between Victoria and Vancouver goes into effect in January.

The mayor previously opposed the increase on the grounds that it would eventually cripple the service and result in Victoria becoming strictly a feeder service to the mainland.

Gerald Murphy Dies Suddenly At Business

Gerald Murphy, 67, partner in the View Street firm of Murphy Electric, collapsed at his work this morning and was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Born in Dungannon, Eire, he had lived in Victoria since 1911. He was a member and past director of the Kiwanis Club here, a past president of Capital City Commercial Club, and a member of Metropolitan United Church.

Surviving are his brother and business partner, R. T. Murphy; his sister, Mrs. Edith Marriner, at the home, 2176 Lansdowne Road, and nephews.

Funeral services will be announced later by McCall.

OPENS DRIVE

USC Head In Victoria

Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova, diminutive director of the Unitarian Service Committee who travelled 35,000 miles this year by jet, jeep, and her own two feet on behalf of the USC, arrived here today on a pilgrimage that started Sept. 6 in St. John's, Nfld.

Her objective was to announce the USC annual fund, which aims at $240,000 for 70 projects in nine countries, mainly India, and 10,000 layettes for babies in Greece, Korea and Hong Kong.

Her 35,000-mile jaunt was her seventh world survey of depressed areas where the USC gives aid. She will tell the story of her "Journey With a Purpose" at the Ingham Hotel, 2907 Douglas, Thursday at 8 p.m.

Admission will be free, but fire marshal's orders will limit the audience to 200, therefore those interested should be early. A colored movie of USC work, titled "Reaching for the Sun," will be shown for the first time.

Cars First
Victoria Automobile Club has asked the B.C. highways department to allow cars and buses to come off the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen ferry ahead of trucks.

The club says if trucks get off first then a traffic hazard is created on approaches to the ferry when the cars catch up and try to pass.

GAS COMPANY MARKS 100TH ANNIVERSARY
Gas division of B.C. Electric marked 100th anniversary of Victoria Gas Co., its parent organization, by lighting a handsome centennial torch at dusk Tuesday on the Pandora Avenue side of the B.C. Electric building.

Guest of honor, and seen in picture wearing light coat, was Alexander (Sandy) Smith, 89, who worked for the old company from 1901 to 1903, then returned to the B.C. Electric gas division in 1910 and worked continuously until his retirement in 1943.

He was accompanied by his son, Duncan, also with the B.C.E. Bill Mowat, gas distribution supervisor, can be seen in picture handling one of original tapers used by gas lamp-lighters of 1860s.

FARMERS CLAIM POLICY 'UNDEMOCRATIC'

School Taxation Plan Opposed

Strong opposition to a proposal allowing school boards to levy taxes without consulting taxpayers was voiced at the annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture here today.

William Martin, of the B.C. Beef Cattle Growers' Association, said there is a move afoot to have the Public Schools Act amended to permit a school district to levy a tax for capital purposes up to half of one per cent of the operating section of its budget.

"This would permit school districts to levy taxes without submitting bylaws to ratepayers," he said. "This is undemocratic and should be opposed."

Farmer delegates also asked that the federal government do something to stop the shipment of musty and mildewed grain for the feeding of poultry.

Jack Wood, president of the B.C. Poultry Association, suggested that the grain is contributing towards turkey and poultry diseases in this province.

"The grain is not nutritious and is unpalatable and is retarding the health and natural growth of livestock and poultry," he said.

The B.C. government was also accused of neglecting the administration and extension machinery of the department of agriculture.

Mr. Martin said that over the past five years whenever a position became vacant in the department it had never been filled. This has resulted in a shortage of technical help to aid B.C. growers.

Nikita
Refuses
To BudgeBattles Chinese Reds
On Coexistence Policy

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia, in a tough rejoinder to its critics within the Communist camp, said today peaceful coexistence still is a controlling principle in its policies.

The declaration in Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, indicated that hard bargaining on Communist world tactics still is going on in the Red "summit" meeting here that has been in progress for two weeks although some kind of paper compromise may be reached eventually.

Only two days ago the official People's Daily of Peking, in an evident attack on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's theories of peaceful coexistence and the possibility that a third world war may not be inevitable, said it was an illusion to think communism can get along with imperialism.

Peking, in the role of stand-pat revolutionism, called for all-out Communist backing for revolutionary movements in under-developed countries. It urged, however, in a seeming mood of compromise, that Communists "turn the possibility of averting world war into a reality."

A-BAN STILL PRINCIPLE

The Pravda article also said that banishing of nuclear weapons still was a controlling principle in Soviet policy.

In a separate interview with Khrushchev on disarmament, it quoted him as saying the Soviet Union would accept any type of controls if an agreement is reached for general disarmament.

MUM ON CHANGES

Bennett May Name
Ministers Monday

B.C. cabinet changes will probably be made next Monday, Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today.

He told a press conference: "I hope to have them next Monday."

Mr. Bennett did not disclose whether the changes would introduce new members, or would merely be a shuffle of existing ones.

Two jobs must be filled: labor and agriculture.

Mr. Bennett's visitor before seeing the press today was Labor Minister Lyle Wicks, defeated at the Sept. 12 election along with Agriculture Minister Newton P. Steacy.

Mr. Wicks said afterwards, "I haven't anything to say regarding my future plans at this time."

Mr. Steacy is on a train bound for Vancouver from Eastern Canada. He is not expected to return here before Friday.

Premier Bennett said their replacements would be sworn in by Lieutenant-Governor George Peckham at Government House.

He said he expected to make the changes Monday as he leaves for Quebec City Wednesday for a provincial premiers' conference.

"We want to make sure the cabinet is reorganized—rather positions filled—prior to the trip."

Manned Ballistic
Flights Due Soon

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Werner von Braun predicted today that the United States will have a manned space flight in orbit next year.

However, he said his predicted schedule depends on a series of successful manned ballistic flights powered by the Redstone rocket.

"I have absolutely no reason to believe we will not have an orbital flight in 1961," he told a press conference. "I think we will."

He said the first ballistic flights, involving the firing of missiles in a 200-mile trajectory at a maximum altitude of 160 miles, are scheduled to begin in the first quarter next year.

The orbital flights contemplated later would involve placing a manned vehicle in orbit around the earth.

TWO TV CAMERAS

U.S. Orbits
Weather 'Eye'

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States shot a camera-bearing Tiros II weather satellite into a near perfect orbit today and it began sending back pictures of the earth's cloud cover as a forerunner of weather forecasting from space stations.

The first Tiros satellite, sent up last April, found a tornado and a hurricane, and today's more sophisticated vehicle was expected to do even better although both are experimental devices.

After its first pass Tiros II sent eight blank pictures because it was tipped at an angle at the time. But then it sent a series of pictures to Fort Monmouth, N.J., where they went through processing before being sent to Washington. The first pictures were taken by the smaller of the 280-pound satellite's two television cameras. Still to be tested was its larger, wide-angle lens camera and infra-red sensors which are to be used when the portion of the earth being photographed is dark.

A Thor-Delta rocket carried the 280-pound Tiros II to America's 14th space success of the year. A Transit III—a navigation aid satellite—was poised on a nearby pad for an attempt at number 15 next week.

Soviet Raps Assembly
For Backing Kasavubu

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union said today the United Nations General Assembly had done serious harm to the Congo situation by voting to seat a delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin, bitter over Tuesday night's assembly action, told a press conference the 99-nation assembly had acted, under U.S. pressure to rubber-stamp a decision opposed by many African nations.

The Soviet diplomat said the assembly's action "means nothing but encouragement of misdeeds and illegal actions" by the army regime of strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu. He also delivered another sharp attack on Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld for allegedly siding with the Western powers in the UN Congo operations.

Canada's Extremes

High—Toronto 57
Low—The Pas —7Home Construction Primed
By Gov't Housing Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—A government program to revamp the National Housing Act with a view to priming the home construction industry and other providing jobs was unveiled in the Commons Tuesday by Works Minister Walker.

"The scope of this thing is tremendous," said Mr. Walker toward the end of a 20-page speech in which he outlined the proposals, which apparently represent the government's spearhead attack on the problem of unemployment. Maximum loans to home builders under NHA would be increased, and down payments slashed; municipalities would be further assisted in carrying out slum clearance projects, and in constructing sewerage works; loans would be provided for construction of student residences at Canadian universities.

Mr. Walker announced the proposals in introducing a resolution paving the way for the bill which will give them effect.

Earlier, the Commons gave first reading to another government measure aimed at reducing unemployment. It would authorize federal guarantees on bank loans to small businessmen seeking to expand or renovate their premises.

Such loans would be available to businesses with a maximum gross revenue of $250,000 a year. The proposed maximum duration is 10 years, and the loan limit $25,000.

Mr. Walker's announcement of government plans to stimulate house building was characterized by J. R. Garland (L., Nipissing) as coming too late.

Mr. Garland, Liberal housing critic, said the government should act at once to lower the present 6½ per cent interest rate on mortgages guaranteed by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Erhart Regier (CCF, Burnaby-Coquitlam) congratulated the government on its plans in the housing field—where "it has done more than in any other enterprise it has undertaken.

But rents and house prices were continuing to climb. "Until we can notice a decline, we must conclude that there is an insufficiency of housing units in Canada."

Mr. Regier also added his voice to the demand for a reduction in mortgage interest rates.

Mr. Walker said that for the first time since the war, demand for housing has become a limiting factor in home construction.

MAY BORROW 85%
Here are the main points in his plan to put new life in the housing industry:
1. Make it possible for an NHA home builder to borrow 95 per cent of the first $12,000 of lending value, compared with 90 per cent as now. On the remainder of the lending value, the ratio would remain unchanged at 70 per cent.

This change will have the effect of increasing the loan and reducing the down payment for a house worth $10,000 by $500, Mr. Walker said; for a house worth $11,000 by $550, and for houses worth $12,000 to $14,000 by $600. It will have no effect on houses worth more than $14,857.

2. Increase the present maximum loan guaranteed by the government under NHA to $14,200 from $12,800 for single family dwellings with three bedrooms or less and impose a ceiling of $14,900 for larger dwellings. At present the maximum loan for any dwelling is $12,800.

This change would have the effect of increasing the loan and reducing the down payment on houses worth $15,000 by $700, and for houses worth $16,000 and up by $1,400.

LONGER TO REPAY
3. So that borrowers will not have to make higher monthly payments because of the smaller down payment, the permissible repayment period is extended to 35 years from 30.

4. Increase to 85 per cent from 80 the ratio of lending value for rental housing loans.

5. Boost the aggregate amount of home improvement loans that can be guaranteed under the act to $500,000,000 from $200,000,000.

The works minister said Parliament will be asked to set aside $100,000,000 for loans to municipalities wishing to construct sewage disposal plants or trunk sewers.

It was proposed to amend NHA to provide for loans up to 90 per cent of the cost of a university residence, bearing the same interest rate as limited-dividend NHA loans — 5½ per cent. The maximum term would be 50 years.

GEN. LEMNITZER
... Warns Moscow, Peiping

PACIFISTS BUSY

Sub Enables U.S. to Stop 'Any Nation'

GROTON, Conn. (UPI)—Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, said Tuesday at the launching of the atomic submarine Ethan Allen that the United States now has the capability of destroying any nation which would dare attack.

The Ethan Allen is the first of an advance-type mobile launching ship whose 16 thermonuclear Polaris missiles can be pinpointed at targets 1,500 miles away.

Lemnitzer, in a warning aimed at Moscow and Peiping, said "The Communist leaders have respect for only one thing — military power," and "the fear of consequences" should they attempt to achieve a surprise attack upon the United States.

Shortly after the Ethan Allen was launched, the submarine was boarded by two pacifists, who swam to it from shore. Donald Martin, 20, of Wellesley, Mass., and William Henry, 27, of Lodi, Wis., were taken into custody immediately.

Rail Service Cut

OTTAWA (UPI)—The board of transport commissioners today granted the Canadian National Railways permission to discontinue rail service between Fredericton and Newcastle, N.B.

Socred Actions Widen Labor-Management Gap

Actions of the Social Credit government have widened the gap between labor and management and will accelerate the union of labor and the CCF, Oak Bay Liberal MLA Alan Macfarlane said Tuesday.

He told Victoria Liberal Association annual meeting that management can take the government's cue in getting tough with labor, after Bill 43, anti-labor statements by ministers, and prospects of more legislation.

Abolition of the B.C. Government Employees' Association dues checkoff by the government because the group was affiliated to the B.C. Federation of Labor "will not deter—but in fact will accelerate—the CCP-labor merger," he said.

"No justification can be seen for this," he added. "Will it be surprising if management takes this as a sign to get tough with labor and thereby provoke a massive struggle between labor and management which must inevitably result in a great loss to our economy?"

"Will it be surprising if labor takes this as a sign that war has been declared upon labor; thereby putting back management-labor relations a decade or more?"

Mr. Macfarlane said one of the provincial government's big contributions to unemployment has been a cut of 692 government jobs in 1958.

One of the agencies sadly understaffed, he said, is the B.C. Public Utilities Commission.

He said the PUC should regulate utilities such as B.C. Electric, power and rail projects, but it should be given adequate staff and facilities to do it.

The fact that agreement is almost complete on the Columbia River power project has retarded prospects for Peace River hydro to be developed by Swedish financier Axel Wenner-Gren, said Mr. Macfarlane.

"Surely the premier is obliged," he added, "to be candid enough to say the Peace River power development will not go ahead for many years to come or at least to say that it will not go ahead until such time as it has customers which can use the power."

Similarly, the Pacific Northern Railway should not go ahead until it has been thoroughly examined by the PUC "or such other relevant authority."

Mr. Macfarlane added that recent school bylaw votes indicate the need for new education financing policy. Two big bylaws recently rejected were in Saanich and Lake Cowichan. Eight of 17 bylaws were defeated last year, he said.

"They were defeated because the homeowner was already paying the highest taxes in Canada." The provincial government must provide relief from the heavy burden of school taxes, said Mr. Macfarlane.

ST. JEROME, Que. (CP)—An all-male jury today found Mrs. Beverley Ann Weary, 28-year-old heiress, not guilty of a charge of manslaughter.

But it is reported that this is to be changed.

Under a proposed new definition the administration will be allowed to rule that goods are of a class or kind made in Canada if one or more Canadian firms can demonstrate the ability to make a new product and to supply at least 10 per cent of Canadian demand, even before they have supplied that demand.

The ruling could be used by the government to help existing firms to develop new products that would compete with products now being brought into this country in very large numbers. It is understood that it is not the government's intention to use the proposed new ruling to establish new firms in a new line of business. However that remains to be seen.

Meanwhile ... back at the office ...

... an ELECTRONIC SECRETARY* unit is answering his telephone. Today when you go out on business, you can put this ingenious device "on the payroll". It answers your phone, says how long you'll be away, and records the caller's message.

This automatic answering service is the clear rig for any business that wants its phone answered when the office is empty. Many firms use it to provide 24 hour service for customers. They switch the unit on at 5 p.m., and next morning attend to the calls it received during the evening.

Other companies use the ELECTRONIC SECRETARY unit strictly for their own employees. Out-of-town salesmen phone into head office at night when long distance rates are lowest. A special version of the unit answers the phone and records while the salesman transmits his day's orders.

*Reg. Canadian Patent Office

The unit is compact, attractive, easy to use. And it's rented. Costs as little as a pack of cigarettes a day. No depreciation or maintenance. B.C. Telephone keeps it in perfect condition.

Are your office communications as modern as your business? Our representative can show you many ways to save time and money; help you sell. He'll plan a complete system to suit your requirements and your budget. He'll be seeing you soon ... sooner if you make an appointment through our new Marketing and Sales Department.

Want to know more about our ELECTRONIC SECRETARY unit? Phone us. In Vancouver it's MU 3-5511. Outside Vancouver, ask the Operator for Zenith 7000. (No charge for the call.) We'll send you an ELECTRONIC SECRETARY unit brochure right away.

Today's Traffic Trouble Tip
Stay in Own Circle Lane

By AB KENT

Sooner or later, even the least vocal motorist begins singing the Fountain Circle Blues.

This is an off-beat number, the rhythm out of time, often punctuated by the snarl of exhaust, a tire squeal and blatherings from behind the steering wheel.

It's a sad tune, but like the old-time blues represent misery, Fountain Circle is the monkey on the Victoria motorist's back.

The 10-year-old traffic-sorting device at the multiple intersection of Government, Hillside, Gorge and Douglas was conceived in the belief that drivers can be courteous and sensible.

While it has not quite worked out that way and despite the fact that several drivers have pulverized cars trying to ignore it, the circle remains and drivers must cope with it using patience and giving way to traffic approaching from their left.

"Old Subscriber" asks what lane he should use within the circle when driving south in the curbside lane on Douglas.

There is no firm rule, here, but discretion comes first of all. The ideal practice is to stay in the outer lane of the circle itself, rejoining the outside lane beyond the circle without crossing a broken line getting there.

Each movement must be properly signalled.

Once in the outside lane there should be no need to depart from it or the outer circle lane in negotiating any part of Fountain Circle.

(Incidentally, in all articles dealing with lane-driving, the term "inside lane" will be used in reference to the lane nearest the centre line. "Outside lane" will designate the lane nearest the curb.)

Entering the circle from the centre lane is a little different because it is necessary to cross the outer circle lane to get to the inner one, which might be preferable to traffic southbound on Douglas intending to turn onto Hillside, for example.

After you, my dear Alphonse.

UNDIGNIFIED, COSTLY

Mountie as Symbol Spurned by Officer

Use of an RCMP figure to symbolize Canada in fairs, parades and pageantry and to label products, ranging from beer to rice is undignified for the force and costs taxpayers too much money.

Assistant Commissioner D. O. Forrest, head of RCMP's "E" Division, told the Victoria Kiwanis Club Tuesday that demands to have the force take part in public affairs are increasing and disturbing to the RCMP.

"Surely there is some other adequate way we can advertise Canada or attach a label to Canada without always employing the figure of a Mounted Policeman. And I'm thinking in terms of the com-

If the beaver and maple leaf are not dramatic enough as symbols, something that is ought to be found, he told the club.

He said it is cheapening to use the red coat to promote every event taking place between Tatamagouche and Port Hardy.

Several thousand man-days of non-productive time would be used annually in B.C. alone if all requests for RCMP personnel at reunions, exhibitions, shows and so on, were granted.

Further, the cost comes high.

He charged that the States, Britain and Italy, silent about the matter in their draft resolutions, are silent about the armament to the Assembly.

"They speak only of vague measures," the speaker said.

Party leaders in the declaration, said in effect, "The Communist party of the Soviet Union has a right to be heard. It still holds to the Leninist principle of the peaceful co-existence of states with different social systems and the line of the Soviet Union foreign policy."

"The principle does not mean reconciliation of class struggles. It does not mean reconciliation of Highways. Minister P. A. Gagliardi was correct when he stated that alcohol is responsible for 70 per cent of all traffic accidents, Duncan Rotary Club was told this week.

Said William G. Wilson, executive director of the B.C. Alcohol Research and Education Council: "I don't know where the minister got his figures, but I would say he is quite correct."

A former police officer, Mr. Wilson said that although he is an abstainer he does not hate alcohol nor does he have the right to tell people they should not drink. His job, he said, is to provide an accurate understanding of the effects of alcohol.

The three areas in which the council works, he said, were with the alcoholic, in the field of traffic safety, and in crime prevention.

The Alcohol Research Council, Mr. Wilson concluded, is not sponsored by any one church or group but operated on grants from various organizations. It recently received a grant of $10,000 from provincial government.
